Nature's Cannon - The Bombardier Beetle

Many animals have weird and wonderful defenses, but the bombardier beetle is truly amazing. They are small, so they don't look scary. However, if you pick one up—watch out!

“Bombardier” is the name for a person who shoots a cannon. Now can you guess why the beetle is called a “bombardier”? When it is afraid or attacked by another animal, two chemicals mix inside of the beetle's body. Then, the chemicals explode out of its tail with a loud sound. “POP!!!” The chemicals smell bad and can kill other insects or small animals. If a person gets hit by the chemicals, they can get a bad rash.

Any animal that wants to eat the bombardier beetle should think twice. You should be careful too. Don't bother the bombardier beetle or it will shoot you with its chemical cannon!

Wonderful Music

Ross saw a poster in the hallway at school. The poster was asking people to join the school band. Ross loved music, so he decided to join.

On the first day of band class, the teacher asked what musical instruments the students wanted to play. Ross couldn't decide. He closed his eyes and imagined the different instruments; the lovely loud drums, the sweet silver flutes, and the nice warm guitars. Suddenly, Ross knew which one he wanted. He told the band teacher his decision.

As soon as he held the gold instrument in his hands, he knew he loved his choice. Ross practiced from September to May. He practiced every day.

10 When it was time for the spring concert, Ross was ready. He looked out into the crowd and smiled. Then, he pressed his lips together, lifted the trumpet to his mouth, and played wonderful music into the night.

A Job for Winter Weekends

When I was young, my mother often had a special job for me. She would ask me to iron our family's handkerchiefs.

A handkerchief is a small square of cloth that you keep in your pocket. Not many people use handkerchiefs now. They use tissues instead. Before 5 tissues were common, people used to use handkerchiefs to blow their nose or to wipe their face.

After you wash handkerchiefs in the washing machine, it is nice to iron them into a beautiful square shape. This is the job that my mother wanted me to do when I was young. It is a good job because ironing handkerchiefs
10 is the easiest type of ironing. It is fun to press the handkerchief into a square. I also liked it because the iron was nice and warm. It was a good job for winter weekends.

These days I don't like ironing very much, but I still carry a handkerchief. I guess I am old-fashioned!

Did you know?

Irons cause many fires and burns each year. So, be careful!

READING Rocket

is a three-level reading series for young learners of English. In each book, carefully graded reading passages are supported by a variety of exercises. By completing these exercises, students build vocabulary, extend grammatical knowledge, and progressively consolidate their reading skills.

In order to make the passages and exercises more appealing, the authors have created fun, same-aged characters for the fictional passages. These fictional passages are alternated with non-fiction passages to reflect the varied interests of elementary school students and to scaffold them towards academic reading.

Reading Rocket also provides an easy-to-follow lesson format that enables students to actively take part in the reading and thinking process.

Features

- A memorable and interesting family of characters
- Exciting fiction passages with warm feelings and humor
- Exciting non-fiction passages that prepare students for academic reading
- Cumulative vocabulary and reading skill practice
- A systematic lesson process
- A cumulative word list that summarizes the key vocabulary
- An innovative warm-up section to motivate students
- Accompanying audio recordings
