

Final Exam-Written: Listening

Speak Now 1. Final Exam.

Listening 1

- A: What's for dinner?
B: Dinner? I don't know. It's your turn to cook. Remember? I'm taking a test tomorrow. I need to study tonight.
A: Really? Oh no. OK. What are you in the mood for?
B: I don't know. How about something light? Maybe some chicken with vegetables and rice....
A: That sounds good. Do we have any chicken?
B: Uh...no, we don't. And I think we need more rice, too.
A: Do we need fresh vegetables, too?
B: No, we don't. There are lots of vegetables in the refrigerator.
A: OK. So, I'll go to the store and get some chicken and some rice. Is that all we need?
B: Um...I think we need some chocolate ice cream, too.
A: Hey, I thought you wanted to eat a light dinner....

Listening 2

- A: What are your plans for next weekend, Cindy?
B: Next weekend? Oh...I'm going out of town to visit my relatives.
A: Oh, really? Where do they live?
B: They live in New York...New York City.
A: Oh, really? New York is an amazing city. I love New York.
B: Yeah, me too. The shopping is great. And the museums are fantastic.
A: And what about the restaurants? I really love the restaurants there.
B: Oh yeah...me too. I try different restaurants every time I go to New York. I went to a really great one last month. It was a Korean restaurant.
A: What did you have?
B: I had...well, I don't remember what it's called. It had vegetables, and tofu, spices...and an egg. It was spicy!
A: Was it good?
B: Oh, yeah. It was incredible!

Question 4: Conversation

A: Hello?

B: Oh...hello. I'm calling about the used books you're selling.

A: Sure. Which ones do you want?

B: Well, I need the books for Economics 101. How much are those?

A: Uh...those are $120.

B: Wow! That's a little expensive. How many are there?

A: It's a full set. There are four books.

B: OK. Umm...will you take $90?

A: Well...I... I can give them to you for $105. How's that?

B: Thanks. That's great. Where's your place? I'll come and pick them up.

A: I live in Craig Hall. It's right across from the library. Room 222.

B: Great. I'm really close. See you in a few minutes.

Question 5: Lecture

Do you like shopping? Many people all over the world love shopping. The Ginza in Tokyo, Japan, the Champs Elysées in Paris, France, and Singapore's Orchard Road are some of the most popular and most expensive shopping streets in the world. Shops on these streets have to pay very expensive rents. However, New York City's Fifth Avenue is the most expensive shopping street in the world. Just how much does it cost to rent one foot of space on Fifth Avenue? It costs more than two thousand dollars for every square foot per year.
