Audio CD Section 3: Expanded Story

(Page 2) Emma is a student at Riverside School. One day when Emma was in Grade Four, a strange new student came to the school. "Emma, this is Linda," said Miss Taylor. "She's a new student. Please take her to Class 4C." Emma was in class 4C, so she knew exactly where to go. "Yes, Miss Taylor. I like your bag, Linda." "Thank you." Linda had a very special bag.

(Page 4) It was Thursday. Class 4C had art class on Thursday. Everybody was painting pictures. Linda was painting in a very special way. "What are you painting, Linda?" asked Peter. "I'm painting some flowers." "Wow! How do you do that?" "I look at the brushes, then I look at the paint." Only Linda could paint this way. Her classmates couldn't believe their eyes. Wow! It was magic!

(Page 6) It was ten thirty. The students have a fifteen-minute recess at ten thirty every morning. The children were in the yard. "I'm skipping," said Emma. She was skipping with a jump rope. "I'm jumping," said Peter. He can jump like a kangaroo. "I'm flying," said Linda. "Fly with me." Linda was a very strange student. "We can't fly, Linda!" Only Linda could fly like a bird. "What a pity!" Her classmates couldn't believe their eyes. Wow! It was magic!

(Page 8) It was eleven o'clock. The students had music class at eleven o'clock on Thursday. "Let's play some music," said Linda. "I can play the piano, the violin, and the drums." Her classmates couldn't believe it. Wow! It was magic! "I can play the flute," said Emma. "I can play the guitar," said Peter. So Linda's classmates could play with her. "Let's go," said Linda. Linda played well, Emma and Peter played well, too. It sounded very good.

(Page 10) It was twelve o'clock and lunchtime for the students. "I'm very hungry," said Linda. "I want a cookie. Emma and Peter, do you want a cookie, too?" "Yes, please, Linda," they said. Linda clicked her fingers and three cookies came flying through the air. "Here you are. One for you, one for you, and one for me." Her classmates couldn't believe their eyes. Wow! It was magic!

(Page 12) After lunch the students had math class. Their math teacher was Mrs. Young. "Linda, why are there ducks on your desk?" asked Mrs. Young. "I'm counting, Mrs. Young. Two frogs and three frogs is five frogs. How many ducks are there? One, two, three, four..." Mrs. Young couldn't believe her eyes. Wow! It was magic!

(Page 14) It was one thirty in the afternoon. Time for P.E. class. The children were in the gym. "Can you play basketball, Linda?" asked Peter. "Yes, I can, Peter. Watch." Linda threw the ball. It bounced off some of the children playing. "Ouch! That's my knee." "Ouch! That's my elbow." "Ouch! That's my head." And then it bounced into the hoop. The students could not believe their eyes. Wow!

It was magic!

(Page 16) After P.E., Class 4C went to the library to read books. It was three o'clock and time for the students to go back to their classroom. "What a mess! Let's help the teacher," said Emma. "OK. You put the chairs back, and I can put the books away," said Linda. "Thank you, girls," said Mrs. Young. She could not believe her eyes. "That's great!" Linda was a very special student.

(Page 18) It was three thirty in the afternoon. Miss Taylor went to class 4C to look for Linda. "Linda, please come to the office," said Miss Taylor. "Now, where did she go?" Linda was not in the classroom. She could disappear just like that. "I'm here, Miss Taylor. I'm in the office!" Miss Taylor could not believe her eyes! Wow! It was magic.

(Page 20) Linda's mother was in Miss Taylor's office. "Hello, Mom," said Linda. She could not understand. Why was her Mom here? "What's the matter?" "I'm sorry, Linda," said her Mom. "This is the wrong school for you. You must go to the Magic School, not this school."

(Page 22) It was four o'clock and time to go home. Linda and her mother were outside with Class 4C. "I'm going to my new school now," said Linda. "Goodbye, Emma and Peter. Goodbye, Class 4C. Goodbye Mrs. Young." "Goodbye, Linda. It was fun!" Linda and her mother flew off, up, up, and away. The students could now believe their eyes. They had to. Wow! It really was magic.
