How to Use This Book

This series is designed to further develop young learners' speaking and listening comprehension skills. In this level, students will be preparing themselves for comprehending native-level conversations and information as well as preparing themselves for standardized tests that feature various listening tasks.

Pre-Listening Warm-Up

The first page of each unit introduces some of the vocabulary students will encounter in the passages from the unit. Each warm-up page begins with a visual exercise that asks students to match words or phrases to pictures. This helps students associate new words with their physical counterpart.

In Parts B and C, students will practice more new vocabulary words by identifying words in context or additional vocabulary and definition matching exercises.

QR codes are given for every unit to help students quickly access the listening tracks for that unit.

Unit 3 What's on Tonight?

A Study the pictures and sentences.

 The store sells potatoes, cucumbers, and squash. It sells various kinds of fruits, too.

 The clown is wearing red clothes and a tall red hat. In addition, she also has on a pair of big yellow shoes.

20 Unit 3

Listening 1, 2, 3

Listening 1, 2, and 3 take the vocabulary used on the warm-up page and deliver a dialogue or monologue based on the unit's theme. Each listening page contains one passage and three comprehension exercises based on the passage. Exercise A is always a visual-based exercise to get students engaged in the listening as well as provide visual clues. Exercises B and C alternate between True and False questions, multiple choice questions, or fill-in-the-blank exercises. The various exercises target different thinking skills.
