Unbelievable umbrella street art

A colourful umbrella art installation floats above this promenade in Águeda, Portugal. It casts a shadow of geometric shapes on the ground below and fills the streets with a fairy tale-like atmosphere. As well as providing shade in the heat of summer it also brings uplifting energy and colour into a quiet street.

1.02 Read the text. What changes does Skye mention?

her daily routine her friends her hobbies her home her school

My name is Skye Winter-Fox and I'm sixteen. After a year in Woodley Bridge with my gran, I now live in the city again with my parents. My parents usually travel abroad a lot for their jobs, but now they work in London. I'm really happy to be home with my mum and dad again. I sometimes stay with my gran at weekends. Her home is really nice but quite small. At my parents' house, I have a big bedroom and so there's more space to hang out with my friends. I love taking photos of my classmates. When I'm on my own, I also like writing songs. I start my new school, Belmont Academy, on Monday. My neighbour, Jay, goes to the same school. We get on really well. My friend Dan also starts there on Monday. Dan's going to Belmont Academy because his mum wants him to go to an international school. Dan's not worried at all, but I am. I hope my first day goes OK!

2 Read the text again. Mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

- 1 Skye's grandmother lives in a large city.
- 2 Skye's parents no longer work abroad.
- 3 Skye's grandmother always comes to visit at weekends.
- 4 Skye likes writing songs with her friends.

7 1.03 Read and listen. What are the differences between Belmont Academy and Skye's old school?

- Jay: Skye, you don't need a prospectus for Belmont Academy. Just ask me!
- Skye: OK. Do you like it there, Jay?
- Jay: It's great. I'm sure you'll love it too.
- Skye: But I don't know what it's like at an international school. And it's bigger than my old school in Woodley Bridge.
- Jay: Well, you hear lots of different languages every day because there are students from about forty countries. I think it's the friendliest school round here.
- Skye: That's cool. And they don't have a uniform!
- Jay: No, you can wear what you like. It's more relaxed than other schools.
- Skye: That will be a nice change. The curriculum looks good too. I might try some different after-school classes.
- Jay: You should come to the Astronomy class with me. It's more interesting than chess or football.
- Skye: I might try that. And maybe Mandarin Chinese!

Hi! My name's Jay and I'm from London. My family are originally from Jamaica. I live with my parents and my brother and sister. My brother's still at school, but my sister's training to be a web designer. I go to Belmont Academy and my favourite subjects are Physics, Chemistry and ICT. My neighbour, Skye, is joining the school this term. I'm really looking forward to hanging out with her more. When I'm not at school, I love spending time on my computer. Right now I'm writing my weekly blog. It's about science and I write about things I hear in the news and upload interesting pictures. I also love anything about Physics. At the moment I'm reading an e-book about Helen Sharman, the first British person in space. I'd love to go to another planet one day!

Hi! I'm Nina and I'm from Colombia. We moved to the UK this summer and I've been here for about a month. London is all right, but it still feels strange. It's very different from Medellin, where I grew up. For a start, there are no mountains or cable cars. In Medellin we have some awesome views. They're both big, noisy cities, though.

I'll start a new school on Monday. I visited it last week, but there weren't any pupils there as it's the summer holidays now. I speak Spanish at home, but I learned English at school in Medellin. I'm worried about the language in the UK as American English is a bit different to British English. I've had an English tutor for two weeks and I've also tried to watch loads of English TV since I arrived. It's quite funny and it has helped a lot. My accent isn't perfect yet, but I think I'll be able to make friends easily.

get out of your comfort zone!

It's the start of a new school year. Everyone's getting back into their 'normal' routine, so it seems like a good time to challenge yourself.

Here's a simple idea. Why not surprise yourself and change/ make your daily routine? You could travel a different way to school. You never know – you might <sup>2</sup>have / make an adventure! Why not eat your meals in a different place or get up early and do some yoga? Our brains <sup>3</sup>have / get a buzz out of change, so it helps you to enjoy your day and focus on what you're doing.

I love making videos, but I was always too shy to share them. Then last month I made myself post my work online. Now people like to comment, <sup>4</sup>give / get their opinions and criticise, but I don't mind. Good comments <sup>5</sup>make / boost my confidence, but I try to <sup>6</sup>take / get on board negative comments too. Marco

I tried this idea on my birthday: allow a friend to <sup>7</sup> boost / make plans for you! Your friend chooses a place to go. You have to see a film you wouldn't normally choose or try a new activity. I was really excited about my day – and a bit anxious too. But I decided to <sup>8</sup> have / give it a go and now I have a new hobby: juggling! Carly

- 4 🔲 Americans are usually familiar with Ji-Min's home country.
- 5 Vanessa guessed correctly about the problems she would have in the USA.
- Adele helps immigrants with more than just learning the language.

Fitting in

Have you ever felt that it's hard to fit in with the people around you? Wanting to belong is part of growing up, but it's definitely more dificult when you move to a new country. This group of young migrants talk about the challenges they face in the USA.

Mateo Martinez is fifteen but his family moved to the USA from Mexico when he was a few years old. Although he loves his life in the Mateo still faces stereotypes. 'Some Americans expect me to be lazy,' he explains. 'That's what they think of Mexicans. I don't is the personally, but I don't like that kind of label.' Another thing which annoys Mateo is when other students ask if he speaks Mexican the base. 'Some people don't know that we speak Spanish,' he says. 'Our countries are neighbours, so people should be aware of our the gauge and culture.'

D-Min Choy arrived a few months ago. When I meet her, she's searching for a video on YouTube. In the video, Barack Obama is beaking about immigrants as a big part of American history: 'We don't simply welcome new arrivals – we are born of immigrants.' There this speech,' says Ji-Min. 'It makes me feel welcome. Do you know that almost one quarter of the US population are first or beach generation migrants?' That definitely makes life in this big country easier, but there are still awkward moments for Ji-Min. 'It makes don't really know where South Korea is!' she says.

Vinessa Defay, from Haiti, was anxious before she arrived last year. She thought that finding new friends would be her biggest problem, but she wong. 'Making friends is simple because some other students speak Creck, which is my language, and Spanish, which I learned at school. But Infern don't understand the teachers when they speak fast.' Adele Parker, English teacher, is helping Vanessa. Adele knows that many children more here due to various problems in their home countries. 'Learning a area language is a huge challenge for immigrants. I teach students about the culture too, and help them integrate through extra social activities.'

In 2014 thirteen-year-old Malavath Poorna became the youngest girl to climb Mount Everest. She was living in a village in the countryside with her parents when a government organisation chose her and a friend for the mountain challenge. At the time, Malavath was looking for a chance to do something different and she was happy to go. She flew for the first time in her life to a special mountain centre where she trained for eight months. The training was hard and sometimes the temperature dropped as low as -35°C. Malavath also hated the packaged food that she had to eat. It didn't smell nice and she missed her mum's cooking! The climb lasted fifty-two days. At times it was dangerous and they had to walk very slowly, but Malavath didn't give up. When she finally raised India's flag on the highest peak in the world, she said she felt great and very proud of herself. Since the climb, Malavath has gone back to school because she couldn't study while she was training. She's also met the Prime Minister, who encouraged her to complete her studies. Has the climb changed her? Definitely! Now she wants to climb more mountains around the world.

I've always loved trying new things, so when Dan invited me to go climbing, I was confused. The problem is I'm scared of heights. I first realised this when I was crossing Tower Bridge in London on a school trip. Suddenly, somebody screamed and I saw that part of the floor was glass. I started shaking and my hands were sweating. I was disappointed with myself and sad.

Soon after that, I heard about the climbing class and I decided to give it a go. When I arrived and saw the climbing wall, I gasped. It was quite high, but the instructor helped me and showed me how to climb slowly and safely. At the beginning it was quite difficult, but gradually I felt less anxious although I had to concentrate very hard.

The experience has made me more confident. That day, I got a buzz out of climbing and I couldn't stop smiling. Now I climb regularly and I'm never scared.

Endurance tests: the most challenging races in the world

You're stressed and anxious, you have problems sleeping. What you need is a challenge. There has never been a better time, but which one to go for? Traditional marathons and triathlons are still popular but newer events have now appeared. They are held on difficult terrain and represent a greater challenge to participants. They are popular in the USA and are very competitive.

The first long-distance triathlon was the Ironman. It started in Hawaii, on Waikiki beach, in the 1970s and there are now forty countries across the world which hold Ironman events. An Ironman is the hardest one-day endurance test in the world. Participants must complete a 3.86-km swim, a 180-km bike ride and run a whole marathon – and no stopping is allowed! The World Championships are held in Hawaii every year. The run in Hawaii is particularly difficult because you have to cross a desert!

Other tough races include the Trans-Rockies. These are six separate contests which take place in different locations in the Rocky Mountains. You can do a twenty-four-hour bike race along Canada's highest peaks – but don't try it if you suffer from vertigo! Alternatively, head for New Mexico, where there is a ride that lasts three days through the desert – just try cycling through sand dunes!

As for the traditional marathon, you can still take part in the world's biggest, in New York. However, if you really want to push yourself, try the World Marathon Challenge. This is seven marathons, in seven days, on seven different continents! It's called The World Marathon Challenge for a reason! For many people, this is the challenge of a lifetime. Participants have to run 295 km, spend fifty-nine hours in the air and fly approximately 38,000 km from the Antarctic Circle to Sydney, Australia. All at your own risk!

Is it cool to be GREEN?

Definitely! We need to protect our planet for our future. That's why I always travel on <sup>1</sup>public transport. Too many people drive, so there are always <sup>2</sup>____ in the city centre.

At my school we recycle as much as we can. We don't use 3____ such as sun or wind power, but our head teacher has plans for solar panels on the roof. Some people joke that they like warmer weather, but I tell them that 4___ is really not good. Rising ocean levels cause floods that can destroy houses and farms. The oceans are also getting polluted with plastic, so I never use plastic bags. In fact, I make my own bags! Next to my school there's a 5 where we put soft drink bottles, but you can also use the bins for recycling cans, paper and clothes. There's a larger outside the city, where we can take our old TVs, furniture, books and even bicycles. You can find loads of cool things there.

12 [VOX POPS > 2.1]

How green are you? Are your town and school green? In groups, take it in turns to talk about your ideas.

I always try to save water. For example, I take a quick shower and I rarely take a bath.

My town's got a huge recycling centre and they collect rubbish from your house.

At my school we recycle our pens!

plant-eating animals in the zoo. I hadn't realised what a mountain of animal waste looked like!

The mixture of animal waste and water produces a biogas. This goes into an engine that works on gas and produces electricity. So, had this idea really helped the zoo? Absolutely! Before they started using the waste, the zoo had found it difficult to control how much they spent on electricity. Now they can keep the animals warm and save money too!

1

School's nearly out and for most teens it's a chance to hang out with friends and enjoy the summer vacation. But if you're a sixteen-year-old eco hip-hop artist, it's a busy time of international travel and public speaking. Xiuhtezcatl (roughly pronounced shoo-tez-cat) Martinez became known around the world in 2015, when he gave a talk about climate change to the United Nations General Assembly in New York. It wasn't his long hair and formal suit that got him noticed, but the fact that he started his talk in three different languages: English, Spanish and Nahuatl, the language of the Mexican Mashika or Aztec community.

2

His passion for the environment comes from the time that Xiuhtezcatl spent in the forest with his dad, where he felt he was 'a big part of this world'. He's had his name since he was six. He got it from older members of the Mashika community and it means 'turquoise mirror' in the Nahuatl language. The community has a strong belief that we are all connected to the world we live in and must protect it and the animals that live in it. He shares this passion with his mom, who set up Earth Guardians, an organisation that educates young people and encourages them to protect the environment. However, it was after he'd watched a nature documentary that Xiuhtezcatl decided he could make a difference now.

3

So where does hip-hop come into all of this? After a rap performance at school with his younger brother, Xiuhtezcatl realised that their lyrics could make people wake up to the problems of pollution and waste. They both now perform at events and festivals around the world. His mom is happy her son is having 'these amazing adventures' but worries all this is taking up a lot of his time. Xiuhtezcatl admits it's intense but is convinced he's doing the right thing.

Skye:	Yeah, I'm fine. I tripped over that can.
Park keeper:	Come and sit down for a minute. Oh, there's so much litter here these days. It used to be such a lovely park and look at it now – rubbish everywhere. Do you run here often?
Skye:	No, this is my first time. I only moved back to this area last month. I used to live here though.
Park keeper:	So did you use to come here when you were little?
Skye:	Yes, I did – all the time. My mum and gran used to bring me here. I remember I had my fifth birthday party in this park – just by those trees. You're right. It didn't use to be this dirty.
Park keeper:	Well, we used to have a team of people who cleaned up the park. Now it's only me – and it's too much for one person. It's a shame, really. Anyway, I should get back to work. Now, are you sure you're OK?
Skye:	Yes, fine, thank you.

When will the lights go out?

Alternative energies

Imagine life without electricity! What effect would that have on the typical British family? Well, there would be no hot water for showers in the morning or, more importantly, the traditional cup of tea! Most families use kettles for this – electric water boilers that sit in every British kitchen. Then, of course, you wouldn't be able to charge your phone, tablet or laptop. Now that's serious! And when you left the house, there wouldn't be any traffic lights, cash machines or supermarkets.

You might think that is just a horror story, but the lights might go out sooner than we think if we don't act soon and move to renewable energy. These are forms of energy which protect the environment as they do not produce carbon dioxide emissions that lead to climate change. They are often cheaper because the energy is generated from 100 percent natural resources – so they can never run out like coal!

So what forms of renewable energy are there? Electricity can also be provided by the wind (wind power), the sun (solar power), the sea (tidal/wave power) and even by volcanoes (geothermal power). The type of energy a country uses depends a lot on geography. Sunny Spain has more solar power than the UK and volcanic Iceland has much more geothermal power.

In the UK, wind power is one of the most popular forms of renewable energy. It used to represent only a fraction of the country's energy supply but now it provides a mighty eleven percent. In fact, Britain currently stands at number six in the world's wind power producers, with over 7,000 onshore wind turbines. And now there are a(most 5,000 turbines offshore as well (that's in the middle of the sea!), making it the world leader. Why not visit the largest offshore wind farm in the world at the mouth of the River Thames?

GLOSSARY

emissions (n) gas that goes into the air run out (v) if sth runs out, there is no more of it left wind turbine (n) a machine that produces electricity from the wind onshore (adj) on the land, not in the sea

Dress to impress! (for guys)

Do you always wear the same old baggy <sup>1</sup>sunglasses (jeans) smelly trainers and a <sup>2</sup>smart / worn-out T-shirt? Then you need to read these top tips!

- Choose a style: What style do you like? Skater: trainers, jeans, hats and accessories. Hipster: checked <sup>3</sup>freckles / shirts, skinny jeans, big glasses and scarves. Classy: suits, shirts and <sup>4</sup>smart / scruffy shoes.
- Do your research: Check which shops sell the style of clothes you want to buy.
- Take your friends shopping: A second opinion is always a good idea and friends can encourage you to try new styles.
- Learn what colours suit you: If you <sup>5</sup>have / are a pale complexion, you need to wear strong colours. If you <sup>6</sup>wear / are tanned, however, you can usually wear pale colours.
- Buy clothes that fit: Size is so important! You don't want clothes that are too tight or too <sup>7</sup>skinny / baggy. Remember sizes are not always the same in different shops. Always try on clothes before you buy them.
- Accessorise: Accessories aren't just for girls! A cool pair of sunglasses, a good belt or some <sup>8</sup>baggy / leather bracelets can make an outfit, and the right <sup>9</sup>denim / hat could save you when your hair's a mess! Lots of guys <sup>10</sup>wear / have piercings now too!

READING and VOCABULARY A bad hair day

I can identify specific detail in a text and talk about the main ideas.

- CLASS VOTE Do you like going to the hairdresser's? Why? / Why not?
- 2 Read the comments people made after a visit to the hairdresser's. In pairs, discuss how they're feeling.
  - It cost a lot of money and it doesn't look any different.
  - 2 The colour is really awesome. I can't wait to show my friends.
  - 3 It's incredibly short. I don't know if I like it.
  - 4 It's awful my ears look too big.
- 3 Look at the title of the article and the photo. What do you think it will be about?
- 4 Read the first paragraph. In pairs, answer the questions.
  - 1 What problems do James and Georgia have?
  - 2 Do you agree that boys and girls have similar hair problems?

5 (1) 2.08 Now read the whole article. Mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

- The teenagers in the survey were between twelve and sixteen years old.
- 2 Most teens are generally happy with how their hair looks.
- 3 Wigs in ancient Egypt were attractive and practical.
- 4 Egyptians copied Cleopatra's hairstyles to be fashionable.
- 5 Copying a hairstyle from the internet might not always be successful.
- 6 The author thinks your hairstyle should express your personality.
- 6 Look at the highlighted words in the text. Check your understanding. Use a dictionary if necessary.
- 7 Work in pairs. What is the main idea in each paragraph? Write one sentence that summarises the whole text.

Are you having a bad hair day?

Do you usually wake up, take one look at your hair and run for the shower? In a recent survey by Teensnet of 2,000 teenagers aged around sixteen years old, eight out of ten said they weren't happy with their appearance and it's their hairstyle that's been causing most of their problems. 'Since the age of twelve, I haven't left the house without checking my hair a million times in the mirror,' says James. His friend Georgia has been going to the same hairdresser since she was little, but says that she never has her hair cut if she's got school the next day. 'I worry that it won't look right,' she says. These are problems that many teens have – and yes, it's boys and girls.

Hair worries are not a modern thing. Men and women have been trying different styles for thousands of years. You can cut it, straighten it, gel it and colour it. The ancient Egyptians thought that hair was very important and created beautiful hairstyles with hair extensions and beads. Men and women cut off their hair then dyed it and made fashionable wigs that looked good and also protected their heads from the sun. Historians say that Queen Cleopatra used different styles to show her power and fame. Paintings from that time show that Egyptians copied her styles – perhaps because they wanted to appear powerful too.

Today we still try to copy others. Celebrities, especially football players and pop stars, have been influencing our appearance for a long time. A photo of a famous person with the 'perfect' hairstyle can go viral and suddenly lots of people try to copy it. However, if the style doesn't suit the shape of your face or your complexion, it can be a disaster. How many times have you looked at a photo of yourself and thought 'Oh no, why did I think rainbow-coloured hair was a good idea?' So, yes, hair is important because it makes us feel good about ourselves. But maybe it's time to forget what other people look like and choose a style that reflects our true selves.

8 Cover the text and take it in turns to tell each other what it's about.

Lots of teenagers aren't happy with their appearance ...

9 In pairs, ask and answer the questions.

- 1 Who influences your hairstyle? Your parents? Your friends? Your favourite pop stars or sports heroes? Your hairdresser?
- 2 Have you ever tried to copy a hairstyle or do you know somebody who's copied a hairstyle? What was it like?

Hi Alisha,

I haven't heard from you for ages. What have you been doing? I've been planning a fancy-dress party for my birthday next month and I'd love you to come.

The theme of my party is the 1980s, so you'll have to dress up! At that time girls used to wear short leggings under a mini skirt or polka-dot dresses with coloured necklaces and plastic bracelets, and the guys wore baggy trousers and jackets in bright colours. I've found an amazing outfit! I'm going to wear a checked dress with pink and red striped tights, a bright green wig and huge earrings!

By the way, I've made friends with an interesting girl from Colombia called Nina. She's pretty and really trendy and was in the school fashion show we had recently. She's also friendly and fun to be with and she's really into hip-hop music. We enjoy talking about the latest songs. Sometimes she has cool hair extensions or she wears crazy hats. I hope you can come to the party so that you can meet her. Anyway, let me know if you can make it.

Bye for now, Skye

Fashion weekly – fashion you can eat?

For the last few days, designers <sup>1</sup>have been preparing (prepare) for today's fashion show. So what's different about this show? Well, the designers <sup>2</sup> (make) all the outfits out of chocolate. Yes, that's right - chocolate! It's the first chocolate fashion show in this city and people <sup>3</sup> (queue) all morning to buy tickets. One fashion fan told me, '1<sup>4</sup> (be) to lots of fashion shows, but 1<sup>5</sup> (never/see) clothes made out of chocolate! I can't wait!' Of course, chocolate melts when it gets warm and the organisers <sup>6</sup> (put) the air conditioning on cold, so if you're planning to come to the show, wear a hat and scarf!

In pairs, ask and answer questions about your day. Use the Present Perfect Simple and Continuous.

What have you been doing this morning? Who have you seen this morning? Have you eaten breakfast?

Who is the QUEEN of fashion?

The Queen of fashion

It's hard to imagine that the royal look could be a fashion icon in the UK but that's exactly what it has become in recent years.

The Queen's headscarf, Burberry check or tartan skirt might seem old-fashioned, but when they are reinvented by famous designers such as Dolce  $\Im$  Gabbana, these country clothes take on a very trendy look. Changing the position of a sleeve or a pocket can give them a modern touch. The royal tartan check was even used in punk fashion as a statement of rebellion. Yes, rock stars wore kilts!

But the Queen's Barbour jacket is perhaps the most distinctive of all her garments. Dating from the 1890s, Barbours were originally made for country people and sailors who needed hardwearing, waterproof clothes. But now they are equally popular with farmers, 'fashionistas' and film stars – both male and female. One of the latest stars to wear one was actor Daniel Craig in the James Bond films. Helen Mirren also wore one in her role as – yes, you guessed it – the Queen!

However, the real queen of royal fashion these days is Kate Middleton, or Catherine, the Duchess of Cambridge, Prince William's wife. Unlike Princess Diana, who wore royal tiaras and her hair short, Kate prefers the more informal trend for long hair. She also dresses in a more extravagant but affordable way. In fact, her look is a careful combination of designer fashion with everyday clothes that can be bought anywhere in the UK.

Her influence is so great that it's become known as 'the Kate effect'. As soon as she wears a particular dress that is available on the high street, the same garment sells out in no time. In this way, she has made some British clothes brands more popular. Now, thanks to Kate, everyone can feel like a queen for the day!

GLOSSARY

Could you be a teen trep?

Lots of young people I know are starting to get <sup>1</sup>part-time and full-time jobs. They work a lot of <sup>2</sup> _____, so they are too tired to go out. The <sup>3</sup> for their jobs is low - for example, my friend, who is a waiter, earns £4.50 an hour. When they complain, I want to say, 'Why don't you start your own 4 ____ then?' I'm a teen 'trep' - that's short for 'entrepreneur'. I create online games. OK, so I don't get any <sup>5</sup> and I usually save money during the year so I can take a break in the summer. On the other hand, the hours are <sup>6</sup>______ and there's lots of freedom. So what makes a successful trep? First of all, you need to think outside the box. You'll also need people skills and good problem solving skills. If this sounds like you, why not be the next teen trep?

9 Answer the questions.

- 1 What's a teen trep? What are the advantages and disadvantages of starting your own company?
- 2 What skills do you need to be a young trep?

- 2 Read the email. What are Dimitris' plans?

Hi Matt,

What are you going to do in the summer? I'm going to Greece. My uncle is starting an open air cinema this summer and I'm going to help sell tickets. My uncle lives next to the sea, so I'll be able to swim every day. I'll probably spend my mornings on the beach with my cousins and then I'll work with my uncle in the evenings.

My flight is on the day after we finish school and I fly back to the UK on 30 August. I'm going to miss hanging out with my friends, but I won't miss the British weather! I'll send you a postcard from Greece!

Bye for now, Dimitris

READING and VOCABULARY Summer jobs

I can find specific detail in short texts.

- CLASS VOTE Do you think summer jobs are a good idea? Why? / Why not?
- 2 🥹 2.23 Read the ads quickly. What jobs are advertised?

A Train on the job

Are you a strong swimmer, a good communicator and would like a challenge? We are looking for lifeguards for our busy summer season. No experience is necessary as you will get two weeks of training before you start the job. As well as being physically fit, you need to be available for work Mon-Fr, 7 a.m.-11 a.m.

For more information, please contact Kim Rogers on 07865542342.

B Summer staff needed at City Souvenirs

We are looking for shop assistants for our busy gift shop. Applicants need to be reliable, friendly and enjoy speaking to customers. A second language is preferred as many of our customers are tourists from other countries. The positions are part-time and the hours will be mostly at weekends. Visit our website for more information.

Keystones: new vacancy

Keystones Italian restaurant has a part-time position available for a lunchtime kitchen assistant. The role includes preparing food and cleaning the kitchen. This is a great opportunity to gain experience and work with some great chefs. The hours are between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m., Thurs–Sun. Call Marco for more information on 07796472837.

Star summer job!

Little Stars Summer Camp is looking for activity leaders to organise activities for children aged 5–8. You will work as part of a team, and activities will include arts and crafts and sports. Working hours are between I p.m. and 5 p.m., Monday to Friday. So if you love working with children and have lots of energy, please write to: littlestars@pmail.co.uk.

3 Look at the highlighted words in the ads. Check your understanding. Use a dictionary if necessary. 4 (1) 2.24 Three young people are looking for summer jobs. Match the people with ads A–D.

Joe 🗌

Joe likes being outdoors and is very sociable. He loves water sports and often takes his young cousins surfing. He enjoys learning new things. This summer he's having guitar lessons every morning.

Lola usually does babysitting for some neighbours, but now she's looking for a completely different experience. She likes talking to people and is a fast learner. At the moment Lola is learning Chinese on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and is quite fluent in it. She isn't very sporty, but she loves drawing.

Otto

Otto is half German and half Scottish. He loves sport and he's part of a swimming club that meets every morning at 8 a.m. – also in the summer. He's quite shy and finds it difficult to talk to people he doesn't know. He likes working with his hands and is very neat and tidy.

5 Do you think you would be good at any of the summer jobs in the ads? Why? / Why not?

I think I would be a good lifeguard because I'm a strong swimmer and I'm quite brave! I don't think I'd be a good activity leader because I'm not very patient with children.

GRAMMAR Future Continuous

I can talk about actions in progress in the future.

Dan: Look - you've got a letter.

- Skye: At last! I've been waiting for ages for this. It's from the vet. He says I can help in the surgery this summer.
- Dan: Cool. What will you be doing?
- Skye: Let me see. I'll be working in the office and I'll be doing simple day-to-day jobs with the vet.
- Dan: Mmm ... simple day-to-day jobs ...
- Skye: Yes, it'll be fun. I'll be working with different animals. I'll be looking after sick pets. And I'll be helping people who are worried about their pets.
- Dan: But you haven't got any experience. You haven't even got a real pet. Well, except for Basil.
- Skye: Do you mind? Basil is a real pet. And anyway, that's why I'm doing it, Dan. I need the experience. Just wait and see. In ten years I'll be working as a vet and I'll be enjoying it.
- Dan: Yes, but until then you won't be helping them. You'll be cleaning up after them!

What is the happiest profession?

The happiest profession

You might be thinking, 'What job can I do when I leave school? Which one will bring me the most job satisfaction? Which one could be the most useful to society?' And what about where you'll work? Will you be sitting at a desk all day, running around meeting people or travelling around the world? Will you be doing an unusual job, like tea tester for example? But you might not have asked yourself a simple but very basic question: 'Which job is going to make me happiest?'

Well, data from a recent survey revealed some surprising results. It shows that a top salary, the possibility of promotion and a high status in society are not the only important criteria. Flexible hours, a good relationship with colleagues and seeing fast results in your work are also key factors to being happy at work. Professions such as bankers, lawyers and accountants do badly in the survey because they often work long hours, which can get very stressful.

In contrast, the top jobs in the survey are hairdressers, gardeners, plumbers and florists! Why? Because all four have a high job satisfaction rating. Workers see very fast results and their customers are usually happy with the outcome. These workers also feel that their training has paid off because they use these skills on a daily basis, something which many people in office jobs don't experience. People who have set up their own business are also happier because they have more choice about what work to do and when.

To celebrate these 'happy jobs', the BBC recently ran a different kind of talent contest. Instead of focusing on singers and dancers, the producers wanted to showcase the skills needed in everyday jobs, rather than in glamorous ones. Young people between sixteen and twenty-five were tested on their skills at farming, gardening, plumbing and hairdressing. The challenges may be more modest but they are no less important to society.

- 1 The article is aimed at workers / people about to start work.
- 2 The results of the survey are expected / unexpected.
- 3 High status jobs don't do / do well in the happiness survey.
- 4 Hairdressers are happy because they see fast results / meet lots of people.
- 5 The BBC contest features jobs that are often ignored / unskilled.

3 Choose the best summary for the article.

- Surprisingly, job satisfaction is not about status or money. It's about using the skills that you have learnt. We should celebrate professions like hairdressing for this reason.
- 2 Money is not the most important consideration when choosing a future career. You may be much happier doing a more modest job. This is because you will always be on the move.

100 = a hundred 1.000 = a thousand 1,000,000 = a million 1,000,000,000 = a billion

- We do not normally use plurals with large numbers: 4,700 = four thousand seven hundred
- In British English, we put and between hundred and a different number: 1,403 = one thousand four hundred and three
- We use a hyphen when we write numbers 21-99: twenty-one, ninety-nine
- In writing, we separate each thousand with a comma: 3,000,000
- We can make very big numbers simpler by using point: 1,700,000 (one million seven hundred thousand) = 1.7 million (one point seven million)

OUT

Mars is millions of kilometres 1 (away)/ far but actually, the distance between Mars and the Earth changes all the time - from over 50 to 401 2 million / millions kilometres. For that reason, it's difficult to calculate the 3long / length of time it takes to get there.

The fastest 4satellite / spacecraft can travel at 58,000 kilometres <sup>5</sup>per / the hour, so theoretically, we should get to Mars in thirty-nine days. However, this is not possible because the distance is never short for a long time. Also, you can't travel in a straight line. So it 6 takes / gets much longer! In 1969 Mariner 6 took 155 days to get to Mars, but Viking 2 took twice that time - 333 days!

11 Answer the questions.

- What is the distance between Mars and Earth? Why does it change?
- 2 Why does getting to Mars take such a long time?
- 3 When would the journey probably take the shortest time possible?

12 In pairs, choose any three space objects or phenomena from this lesson or from other information sources. Write a short description, including their size, distance, speed or another large number.

READING and VOCABULARY A big adventure

I can understand specific detail in an article and talk about space travel.

CLASS VOTE Do you think it's a good idea to send people into space? Why? / Why not?

2 Look at the title of the article and the photo. What do you think the girl's dream is?

The future is far away!

Alyssa Carson is a teenager and she already has big ambitions for her future. If her dreams come true, she'll fly into space. But she doesn't want to orbit the Earth on the space station or go to the moon. Alyssa wants to travel to Mars, the red planet.

So, is this just a dream? No. Alyssa made the decision when she was three years old because the idea was exciting and 'no one's been there!' After that she read lots of books on Mars and attended her first space camp when she was seven. Since then she's learned a lot about travel to other planets. It's an expensive trip, which requires many years of training. This is a problem for Alyssa's family, but they try to support her. As her father explains, 'If you see the passion she has, you have to be there for her.' Alyssa believes we are 'the Mars generation' and that the mission to Mars will help us get to know the planet better.

More than 100,000 people have already applied for a journey to Mars. If they pass the tests, like Alyssa, they will start a training programme. It's also important to speak several languages if you want to be an astronaut. Alyssa speaks Spanish, French, Chinese and some Turkish, so this should be enough! She also has a certificate in scuba diving and is already working on her pilot's licence. Both these things, as well as a certificate in skydiving, are important for an astronaut's training.

Only a few people can go on the first Mars mission. The flight to Mars won't be easy. They will spend hundreds of days together in a very tight space! So, if you were an astronaut on Mars, what would life be like? You would live in an extremely small space called a 'pod' and you would wear a space suit all the time. If you made a phone call home, it would take half an hour for the sound to reach Earth! Also, if you got ill, there wouldn't be any hospitals. Life wouldn't be as easy, that's for sure! But it would be really exciting.

- 3 Read the first paragraph of the article. Check your ideas from Exercise 2.
- 2.44 Read the whole article. Choose the correct answers.
  - 1 Alyssa decided to go to Mars because she
    - a read about it in a book.
    - b liked the idea of doing something different.
    - c went to space camp.
    - d enjoyed travelling and exploring.
  - 2 What is Alyssa's parents' opinion of her ambition?
    - a They think it's too expensive and try to discourage her.
    - b They want to help her fulfill her dream because they are also 'Mars generation'.
    - c They don't mind because they have a lot of money to spend.
    - d They find it difficult because of the expense, but they try to help her.
  - 3 Which of these things is not important for an astronaut's training?
    - a learning to fly a plane
    - b learning to dive
    - c attending a space camp
    - d speaking foreign languages
  - 4 If you lived on Mars, what would life be like?

- CLASS VOTE Should we spend millions of pounds on space experiments? Why? / Why not?
- 2 Read the interview quickly. How long did the flight take?

This week in Space magazine, astronomer Guy Greenwood talks about a historic mission to catch a comet.

Space:	The Rosetta mission cost 1.7 billion dollars. That's a lot of money! What was your aim?
Guy:	Our aim was to discover more about comets. The Rosetta spacecraft flew 6.4 billion kilometres to comet 67P, which is about four kilometres wide. The flight took ten years!
Space:	What would have happened if your calculations had been wrong?
Guy:	Well, lots of scientists worked on this project, so we were confident that we'd got it right. We would have been very disappointed if the mission had failed. If the mission hadn't been successful, we wouldn't have had these incredible close-up photos or this analysis of the comet's surface.
Space:	They are amazing photos. So, tell us more about the lander, the little spacecraft which landed on the comet.
Guy:	Yes. The lander sent us the first pictures of the icy surface of a comet. There were lots of scientific experiments on the lander. If the lander's solar panels had been in sunlight, it would have been OK. But it landed in a large shadow which was quite dark. So it didn't have much power and it went to sleep. Luckily, even though it worked for two hours only, it managed to get enough information about the comet's surface.

Moon landings: fact or fiction?

Did you know some people believe that astronauts have never landed on the moon? They believe NASA faked the landing. Here are some of their reasons.

They say that the flag <sup>1</sup>wouldn't have waved (not wave) if the astronauts <sup>2</sup>_____ (film) it on the moon because there is no air on the moon. They also think some stars <sup>3</sup>_____ (be) visible if the astronauts <sup>4</sup>_____ (take) the photos on the moon. # SPEAKING Warnings and prohibition

I can give a warning and tell somebody not to do something.

Jay: Skye, I've got a great idea for our Science project. We didn't get a photo of the comet, but we can make a great film with this! Skye: What is that? Jay: It's my birthday present. It's a drone with a small camera on it - here. You can get them for a good price now. Skye: That's so neat! How fast does it fly? I don't know. Let's try it. Right, the camera's on. Jay: We're off! Mind out! Skye: Awesome! Be careful - don't fly too high. You mustn't get in the way of planes. I don't think it's that high. I'm sure we're getting Jay: some good pictures. Skye: Can I have a go? Jay: Sure. Here's the control. Later:

- Jay: Watch out! You can't do that! If you're not careful, you'll ... crash!
- Skye: Well, if you hadn't pressed the wrong button, it wouldn't have crashed!
- Jay: It's OK. There's no damage. Phew! Let's check the recording.
- Skye: That's amazing! This will be perfect for our project.

That's so neat! We're off! Can I have a go?

CLASS VOTE Do you think people should be allowed to use drones? Why? / Why not?

CLASS VOTE If you won a trip into space, would you rather go to the moon, to Mars or visit the International Space Station?

- 3 Read Nina's essay. Order the sections as they appear in the essay.
  - conclusion introduction

] advantages ] disadvantages

In your opinion, is space travel useful?

Since the first space flight in 1961, many people have dreamed of travelling into space. But is space travel really useful?

On the one hand, I believe space travel might be useful for humans in the future. For example, the main advantage is that we can look for another planet to live on, like Mars. This would be useful if we had climate problems here on Earth. Another reason for space travel is that we can test new technology.

On the other hand, I think space travel is too expensive as things like hospitals and education are more important. Another disadvantage is that it's very dangerous because of the speed and the distance. Also, if you had to travel to Mars, you might not come back!

To sum up, if I had to choose, I would forget about space travel and try to look after planet Earth better.

- 4 Work in pairs. List the advantages and disadvantages Nina gives for space travel. Are they the same as your ideas in Exercise 2?

Life in space

Life as an astronaut is very strange. First of all, it's very quiet. Radio waves can travel in space, but sound waves can't. So astronauts wouldn't hear the other astronauts if they <sup>1</sup>didn't wear (not wear) radio headphones! Then, of course, there's no gravity. What <sup>2</sup> (happen) if an astronaut cried in space? Or if he <sup>3</sup> (drop) his sandwich? Well, the tears and the sandwich <sup>4</sup> (stay) in the air! And at bedtime, they <sup>5</sup> (not fall) asleep unless they fixed themselves to the 'bed'. However, one good thing happens as a result of zero gravity: your back stretches about five or six centimeters. So if you <sup>6</sup> (want) to grow taller, you should travel into space!

- 5 Complete the Third Conditional sentences with the correct form of the verbs in brackets.
  - We wouldn't have seen (not see) the stars if the sky hadn't been (not be) clear.
  - 2 She _____ (not become) an astronaut if she _____ (not be) to space camp.

Can you run a marathon in SPACe?

Sports in space!

Tim Peake is no ordinary astronaut. Apart from his duties on the International Space Station (ISS), he also likes to do sport. Amazingly, he took part in the London Marathon – from space! He did it to raise money for charity. How? Easy – with a harness to keep him tied to the running belt.

The ISS is a zero-gravity lab where a crew of six people live and work. They travel in the space station, which orbits the Earth every ninety minutes, at a speed of 28,800 km per hour. So, Tim Peake not only ran the usual 42 km but also travelled more than 100,000 km during his marathon run! But what other sports are possible in space?

American astronauts often play weightless baseball or basketball, and sometimes even golf. You can even throw a boomerang and it returns to you in orbit just like on earth! But of course, for most sports, the rules change dramatically in the absence of gravity. The astronauts have to adapt to their surroundings.

For the rest of us on 'terra firma', the closest we get to an astronaut's experience is probably skydiving. But jumping out of a plane is not for everyone. It seems too risky. So, what other safer sports can we do that challenge gravity?

Zorbing comes from New Zealand. You roll down a hill in a giant ball, or 'orb', made from transparent plastic – but you need a lot of space! If you're in the city, you could try parkour, which is like an urban obstacle course. If you come across an obstacle, you have to get round it by jumping off walls or onto other buildings. Parkour fans also go to skate parks alongside skateboarders, BMX riders and other urban sports lovers.

But a skate park in space? Now that is hard to imagine!

GLOSSARY

harness (n) a piece of equipment that holds sb or sth in place crew (n) a group of people working together on a ship, aircraft, etc.
weightless (adj) having no weight, especially because you are in space surroundings (n) the place where you are and the things that are in it obstacle course (n) a race in which you have to get over a series of objects

2 Look at the photo in the text. What sort of test do you think this is?

When twelve-year-old George said that he was getting headaches at school, his dad made an appointment for an eye test. The optician showed him some coloured images and asked him what numbers he could see, but George found the task difficult. The optician then asked him what his plans were for the future. George said that he hoped to be a pilot. 'That might be difficult,' said the doctor, 'because you're colour-blind'. She told George that he probably wouldn't be able to fly planes in the future. He was very disappointed.

Later at home, his mum told him that colour-blindness ran in the family and said his grandad had the same problem, but that he had learned to live well with it. She said that he couldn't tell the difference between some colours. George asked if that was why his grandad didn't drive a car. 'No,' said his mum. 'You can drive when you're colour blind. He just never enjoyed driving.'

READING and VOCABULARY What to do if you've got a cold

I can understand specific detail in different types of text.

1 CLASS VOTE How often do you get a cold? Do you try to avoid a person who's got a cold? Why? / Why not?

2 Look at the poster. Where do you think you might see this information?

Achoo! Have you got a cold? Read on for some great tips!

Always feed a cold. Perhaps you don't feel like eating, but your body needs vitamins, so eat small amounts regularly.

Try hot chicken soup. Your body needs food and water. Hot soup clears your nose and the water in it hydrates you.

Fresh air won't make your cold worse and might make you feel better. But if you go outside, remember to wear warm clothes.

Don't get too hot. Some people think it's good to sweat if you've got a cold, but you will feel worse.

Get lots of vitamin C. You don't have to drink loads of orange juice. Some green vegetables have more vitamin C in them. So try some broccoli.

3 🕘 3.04 Read the poster. Mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

- You should try to stop eating when you've got a cold.
- 2 Soup can help a cold, but you must drink water with it.
- 3 Going outside can help when you've got a cold.
- 4 🗌 Sweating won't make you feel better.
- 5 Orange juice is the best source of vitamin C.

4 (1) 3.05 Read the blog post quickly. Have you heard of any of these remedies before?

I've always blogged about keeping healthy, but guess what! Today I'm sweating, my throat hurts, my nose is running and my head feels like it's going to explode. Yes, I've caught a cold and I've got a party on Saturday! I hope it's just a twenty-four-hour virus. I don't want to take any more tablets, so I think it's time to find some cool ideas to help me get better fast.

Eating well is super important. Fruit and vegetables are a must, but I've read that onions can fight a virus if you eat them raw – just like eating an apple! Yuk! I might try it, but I don't think anyone will want to talk to me at the party! Another remedy is chocolate. Apparently, dark chocolate can stop a cough, so I'm definitely going to try that. Hot chocolate with chilli works best because the spice fights the cold. Yum!

Some ideas are simply crazy. Another blogger told me that wet socks could help. First you put on cold, wet, cotton socks on warm feet (e.g. after a bath), then a pair of dry woollen socks and then you go straight to bed. He said that the cold socks helped the circulation in the feet and that cleared the head. I have no idea where the idea comes from, but he said he'd tried it and it had worked. So, that's it for today. I've got a virus but I'm going to put on two pairs of socks, grab some chocolate and go to bed. Wishing you all a happy and healthy weekend!

5 Read the blog post again. Answer the questions. Do not use more than three words.

- 1 What does the blogger normally write about?
- 2 How long does the blogger hope the virus will last?
- 3 What effect do raw onions have on a virus?
- 4 What is dark chocolate good for?
- 5 Who has tried the sock remedy?

6 Look at the highlighted words in the two texts. Check your understanding. Use a dictionary if necessary.

7 [VOX POPS 6.1] In pairs, take it in turns to answer the questions. Use information from the two texts and your own experience.

1 What do you think are the best remedies for a cold?

I always drink hot lemon and honey.

2 How do you feel when you've got a cold? Do you try to carry on with your life or do you usually stay in bed and rest?

- Nina: You go first, Dan. Lie down, please. What are you doing?
- Dan: You asked me to lie down!
- Nina: Yes, but not with your legs up on that chair! Come on, Dan. Please be serious! I really want to learn this. I'd love to be a first aider at festivals one day.
- Dan: OK, I was just messing about.
- Nina: Now, the instructor told us to start by bending this arm – like this. And then I pull your other hand and put it on your cheek. I asked you to be serious!
- Dan: Sorry!
- Nina: Then he told us to bend the knee and then I need to pull the leg over.
- Dan: Gently!
- Nina: Oh yes! Sorry, Dan. Now I need to move your head a bit so you can breathe OK. Anything else?

Dan: Yes. Call an ambulance! Nina: Very funny!

Are you allergic to where you live?

Living with allergies

Sixteen-year-old Diana Brampton suffers from a very unusual allergy. She has a condition called cold urticaria – she is allergic to the cold. It didn't help that she was brought up in Ontario, Canada, one of the coldest areas on earth.

When the temperature goes below 5°C, she develops an allergic reaction. Her feet can swell up and turn a purple colour and she can get a rash all over on her body. But it's not just the weather - she can't swim in cool water or even have a drink with ice cubes. Because her allergy is so unusual, it took a long time to get a proper diagnosis.

For years, she couldn't understand what was wrong with her. Luckily, her family were able to move to Florida to help her. There are only about ten days a year when the temperature drops below 5°C there, so Diana can live more comfortably.

The UK doesn't have a particular problem with extreme cold weather, but it is a very green country and twenty-five percent of the population suffer from hay fever in spring time. 1.1 million children in the UK currently receive treatment for asthma. But why are some people more prone to them than others? One teenager gave us his opinion.

'My father was allergic to pollen and I guess that's why I am. My doctor told me that you are fifty percent more likely to be allergic if you have a parent with an allergy. I have terrible symptoms – a rash, a runny nose and sneezing. It happens just when the weather gets better after winter. Also, where I live doesn't help much. Birmingham is a big industrial city and the pollution makes the symptoms worse. In the spring, I have to stay indoors. At least I'm not the only one in my class with this problem!'

Do we still prefer face time to screen time?

It's no secret that most teens love online <sup>1</sup>communication. However, research reports that nearly fifty percent of teens still prefer talking to a friend face-to-face rather than using technology. So what's the <sup>2</sup>______ for this?

One reason is that although texting and messaging is great, it's not always easy to <sup>3</sup>______ our feelings clearly. Without <sup>4</sup>______, such as a smile or frown, it's easy to misunderstand what the other person is saying. It's also more fun talking to friends in person. For example, you definitely add more laughs to a story when you use <sup>5</sup>______ and your voice!

11 In pairs, discuss the questions. Compare your answers with the class.

- Jay: What workshop?
- Nina: We were sent an email last week. Look at the poster: 'Improve your communication skills and have fun. All equipment is provided.'

Skye: Come on. It'll be a laugh.

- Teacher: Hi, guys. OK, today's game has been designed to help you communicate better with each other. In this game obstacles are placed around the room. The obstacles are chairs, a table, cushions and some water. One person is blindfolded and has to get to the other side of the room.
- Jay: Cushions ... cool. Can I be blindfolded?
- Teacher: Sure. Now, when the instructions are given, listen carefully. OK. Dan, Nina and Skye, decide where you want the obstacles. ... I think we're ready. Remember: clear instructions must be given.
- Dan: Jay! I said turn right. Jay: Clear instructions weren't given.

Nina: They were! You weren't listening! Teacher: Guys, this should be fun!

READING and VOCABULARY Communicating with family members

I can understand a text about communication between family members.

- CLASS VOTE Do you communicate with different people in different ways? Think about your parents, brother or sister, grandparents, neighbours.
- 2 (1) 3.27 Read the texts quickly. Which forms of communication do Sam and Amelia mention?

Sam

I don't talk much at home. It's not that I don't enjoy talking, it's just that sometimes I don't want to. This often happens when I get home from school and my mum fires questions at me. 'How was the Maths test? Was your homework given back to you? How did you do?' If I don't answer, she raises her voice and repeats them. It drives me mad – especially when I'm chatting online with my friends. Sometimes we're interrupted by my mum telling me to tidy my room or walk the dog. Don't get me wrong – my mum is great, but I find that really annoying! She likes texting me to find out where I am. I remember once, I came home, said hi to my dad and went straight to my bedroom. A few minutes later, my mum came in from the garden and texted me. 'Sam, where are you? Your dinner's ready!' 'Mum, I'm in my room!' I replied. That made us both laugh!

Amelia

I've always been chatty like my grandma and we talk about everything. I love her stories of when she was young and a bit of a rebel. We often talk about what it was like without a mobile phone or a computer. She didn't like talking to her friends on the phone at home because everyone could hear her. When she had a boyfriend, she had to go to a phone box near the house. It was used by lots of people, so she often had to wait in the cold. Gran was a good dancer and wanted to study Dance at college. Her parents wouldn't even have a discussion about it. 'That's how it was,' she says. The best thing about Gran is she can read my facial expressions. If something's worrying me, she knows and we talk about it. She never thinks I'm being silly. Gran texts me sometimes, but she's hilarious. She writes, 'Hello, America'. That's because in predictive text my name appears as 'America'!

- 3 Read the texts again. Mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).
  - 1 Sam always likes talking to his mum when he gets home.
  - 2 Sam's mum often has to ask the same questions more than once.
  - 3 Sam doesn't generally get on well with his mum.
  - 4 Sam's dad sent him a text about dinner.
  - 5 Amelia and her grandma both talk a lot.
  - 6 Amelia's grandma preferred using a public phone when she was young.
  - 7 Amelia's grandma's parents wanted her to study Dance.
  - 8 Her grandma often gets Amelia's name wrong in her texts.

4 Which person in the texts:

- 1 is good at reading body language?
- 2 is annoyed by interruptions?
- 3 sometimes talks in a loud voice?
- 4 sometimes gets texts from a person who's worried?
- 5 is sometimes very funny?
- 6 likes hearing about life in the past?
- 5 Look at the highlighted words in the texts. Check your understanding. Use a dictionary if necessary.
- 6 In pairs, discuss the questions.
  - 1 What type of person do you think Sam is? What about Amelia?
  - 2 What differences are there in the way Sam communicates with his mum and Amelia communicates with her grandma?

GRAMMAR The Passive with will

I can change active sentences into passive sentences.

CLASS VOTE Does your school offer sign language classes? If not, do you think it would be good idea to add them? Why? / Why not?

2 Read the news story. Who has hearing difficulties?

I can't wait until we can chat just like other mates.

When Luke Hamilton discovered that his new neighbour, Dominic, had hearing difficulties, he decided to look for a sign language course. He soon found one. From September, sign language classes will be taught at Luke's school. They'll be offered to students and parents, and Luke's very excited about it. 'The course will be taught by a qualified teacher after school. Homework won't be given, although students can do online exercises,' he says. The head teacher is sure the classes are a good idea. 'Sign language courses aren't offered in many schools in this area, so we thought it would be popular. If this goes well, more courses will be planned for the future,' he explained. During the course, students will learn basic signs for everyday use. Luke doesn't know how quickly he'll learn, but he's sure of one thing: 'My sign language will be used with Dominic,' he says. 'I can't wait until we can chat just like other mates.'

3 Read the news story again. Answer the questions.

- 1 Why did Luke decide to learn sign language?
- 2 How does Luke feel about starting the course?
- 3 Why does the head teacher think the course will be popular?

- 1 What website is she reviewing and what is her opinion of it?
- 2 Who is the review written for?

website for you?

Is Wordfit the right

So many websites have been created for language learners that it can be hard to know which is the best to use. Wordfit is one of the most popular websites, but is it as good as they say?

I was impressed by the design of the website. It looks really attractive and is easy to use. There is a wide variety of online activities and lots of fun things to do, like quizzes and games. I particularly like the fact that you can chat with other language learners on the site. The only disappointing thing about the website is that very little listening practice is provided and there's no opportunity to practise pronunciation.

All in all, I think Wordfit is a useful website and I would definitely recommend it to other learners. However, if you only want to practise listening and speaking skills, it's probably not the website for you.

3 Order the information as it appears in the review.

Why do languages change?

All languages are in flux. In other words, they are constantly changing. This is especially true of English, which is a real global language. There are now nearly three times more non-native speakers of English than native speakers. 950 million people speak it as a foreign language, while only 340 million speak it as a mother tongue. So why is English changing and is this a good thing?

One reason is globalisation. These days business meetings can be held with people from all over the world – like Brazil, Nigeria and Japan. The only language spoken will be English. This has led to the creation of a new language variety, called International English. It's a kind of simplified English which can be understood by everyone. Some linguists don't like this because for them it is a corruption of the language. But it could be the future of communication in today's globalised world.

In some countries, English has a different role. In Singapore, Hong Kong and the Philippines, English is spoken as a second language. Around 600 million people speak English in this way, meaning that they are bilingual. In the Philippines, Tagalog – the country's main language – and English merge to create a variety called Taglish. It can be difficult to understand if you're not a local.

Languages also evolve because new words and phrases are coined all the time. Nouns such as emoticon, spam or blog and verbs like google, Photoshop or Skype have all been introduced thanks to digital technology. There is much discussion about whether these words should be in the dictionary or not – and some new words never make it!

The use of slang also changes a language. For example, colloquial terms such as innit? (isn't it?) and like, are used so much in contemporary English that they are now a kind of punctuation. But if people use these terms to communicate, why shouldn't they count as 'real words'?

and enjoy pictures!

I can't remember how many different comics I read when I was little, but I know I loved them. I managed to collect a big pile of them. Then I started collecting superhero comics like Spiderman because they were exciting. I loved manga comics and tried to copy the drawings, but I couldn't do them very well. When I started to read novels, I couldn't always follow the story and missed the pictures. Then I discovered graphic novels! They're great if you aren't able to read very quickly because the pictures help you to stay interested. I've read fiction and non-fiction ones. There's even a graphic book about the life of Gandhi called My Life is my Message. When we started reading Shakespeare's play Hamlet at school, I couldn't follow the plot. My dad managed to find a graphic novel of it in the library, so I'll be able to understand the story and the characters. This doesn't mean I won't be able to read longer novels in the future. It just means that I'll be able to enjoy types of books that I wouldn't normally read.

5 Look at the highlighted words in the text. Check your understanding. Use a dictionary if necessary.

Art has something for everyone, but you have to look for it!

By Charlotte, 17

At school, Art is fun because we experiment with different techniques. We do portraits, make sculptures and generally get creative! However, a school trip to an art gallery is often disappointing if you're a teen. For example, last year my Art teacher organised a trip to an exhibition of abstract art by Mark Rothko. The gallery was full of older people, who obviously didn't want to be with noisy school kids. We all got bored and we couldn't stop giggling. Our teacher was getting stressed and kept telling us to be quiet.

The next day we talked to our teacher about the lack of activities for visitors our age at art galleries. She agreed that a visit should be both educational and fun. That's when I decided to go online and look for art galleries that have special events for teens. I managed to find a huge range of activities and proposed some of them to the teacher. Next month we're going to see an exhibition of pop art and meet an artist who specialises in it. So, if you say art galleries are boring, I can show you where to look for inspiring ideas!

It's also a good idea to use the internet to learn about artists. Recently I managed to find a contemporary artist from Czechia, called Kristián Mensa. I've already seen artists who combine different techniques, but this is totally different. He does unique illustrations with ordinary household objects such as mobile phones, headphones and even biscuits. His art is very simple, but it makes you see things differently. For example, he notices that a flower is similar to a mop – and puts this idea into life by drawing a little man and giving him a real flower mop. It's hilarious! I hope I'll be able to go to an exhibition of his work in the future.

6 In pairs, read the adverts for different art exhibitions. Which one would you like to go to? Why?

Giant tree sculptures in the park

Graffiti: street art or vandalism?

Bristol: UK capital of street art

If you want to see art, it's normal to go to an art exhibition in a gallery. There you'll find paintings, landscapes and sketches. But wouldn't it be more fun to see these works in the street? Well, there's a city in the UK whose biggest tourist attraction is street art: Bristol!

There are historical reasons for this fame. The city was badly bombed in World War II, leaving large areas that were empty and required new buildings. Many of these new constructions were put up in a hurry and the buildings quickly became abandoned. The concrete walls were perfect canvases for street art. Today you can find art everywhere – on bridges, in alleys and on the main streets in the city centre. The whole place seems like a giant outdoor gallery!

If you're able to stay for a while, book onto one of Bristol's popular street art walking tours. Experts will tell you about the artists who have decorated the city's streets. The most famous of them is Banksy, with his stencilled graffiti designs. He is celebrated all over the world for his funny and, at times, controversial murals but nobody knows his real identity. Most of his early work was removed by the local council but there is one famous work that survives. It shows a man hanging from a painted window on the side of a large wall.

Of course, some people call Banksy's creations street art and others call it graffiti. What's the difference? Well, the debate is open. Some people say that graffiti is destructive and political, while street art is constructive and creative. But others say that the only difference is that graffiti includes letters – people's 'tags' or special signatures. Whatever you think, a lot of these works are now worth large sums of money at auctions. Is that a good thing or are people just paying for acts of vandalism?

GLOSSARY

abandoned (adj) if a builiding is abandoned, no one lives in it canvas (n) a surface on which an artist paints stencilled (adj) painted using a piece of metal, plastic, etc. into which shapes have been cut controversial (adj) causing disagreement or discussion mural (n) wall painting

Vocabulary B National celebrations

custom display flag national symbol parade public holiday spectators traditional costume

Maisy's blog: I V Ireland

Yesterday was 17 March and it was St Patrick's Day. It's a public <sup>1</sup>holida/ display in Ireland and that means that everyone was out celebrating. It was amazing! There was a huge <sup>2</sup>custom / parade in the centre of Dublin, Ireland's capital city. There were lots of people, all dressed in <sup>3</sup>national symbol / traditional costume or fancy dress.

Crowds of people came to watch and most of the <sup>4</sup>spectators / displays were dressed up in green. This <sup>5</sup>flag / custom comes from the shamrock, which is a kind of green leaf and the <sup>6</sup>national symbol / traditional costume of Ireland. As you'll see in my blog photos, I joined in the fun, wore a really funny tall green hat and bought an Irish <sup>7</sup>custom / flag. The festival also included a street party, an awesome fireworks <sup>8</sup>parade / display and loads of street performances. It was definitely the best day of my trip to Ireland so far.

I can use verb phrases with to-infinitives and -ing forms to talk about future plans.

Skye:	It's so hot on the dance floor. I'm dying for a drink!
Nina:	Me too! What I really want is some nice cold water. I hope Jay and Tommo hurry up with our drinks.
Dan:	Have you two got any plans for the summer?
Skye:	Well, Mum and Dad are going to Iceland. I'd love to see some volcanoes. What have you got planned, Nina?

- Nina: I'm going back to Colombia for a holiday. I can't wait to see the sun again!
- Dan: I wish I could come with you!
- Nina: In your dreams!
- Tommo: We're back! Drinks for everyone!

Skye: Thanks, guys.

- Jay: No worries. Here's to a great summer. I hope we all have fun.
- All: Yes. Cheers, everyone!
- Nina: Right. Who feels like a dance? I love this music.
- Jay: Hang on a minute. What's that noise?
- Tommo: It's the firework display. It's just starting.

Nina: I hope it's not cold outside!

- Skye: Come on, Nina. It's fine! Anyway, we could all do with some fresh air.

2 Read Dan's email to Mike. Whose birthday is it?

Hi Mike,

....

How are your summer holidays going? What have you been up to? We're throwing my brother Ed a surprise twenty-first birthday party. Would you like to come? He came back from the USA yesterday and he's staying for a couple of weeks. The party's on Saturday 19 August at our house. Mum and dad said you could stay at our house for the weekend. Do you think you'll be free?

On the Sunday after the party we're planning to go to the Atlantis Water Park. It's absolutely amazing there! So, you could do with some swimming trunks. We could hang out with my cousins. Do you remember them? They'll be at the party too.

By the way, you don't need to wear anything smart to the party – you can wear whatever you want. I hope you can come. Let me know as soon as possible!

Speak soon, Dan

What is a Virtual festival?

Video gaming festivals: staying in to have fun

When you think of festivals, do you think street parades, traditional events and colourful costumes? Well, think again! Nowadays, it's fashionable to stay indoors with your screens! Why? It's to celebrate video-gaming, which is one of the most popular hobbies around. There are lots of big gaming festivals in the world and the UK is one of the main centres because most gamers communicate in English.

Insomnia, which is the biggest festival in the UK, is held every year near Birmingham and attracts thousands of young people. It's an amazing get-together where you can meet the world's most renowned players. Some of these celebrities are only eleven or twelve years old! There are tournaments of popular games like Mortal Kombat. Minecraft is also everywhere, which shows that it is a real cultural phenomenon.

Although the festival happens inside and everyone is glued to screens, these events have a lot in common with traditional festivals. There are many fans who form long queues to watch celebrity gamers on big stages. There are incredible light displays and giant screens everywhere. At first sight, it looks more like a rock concert!

We interviewed a teenager at the Insomnia festival in Coventry to see what she thought:

Marcela: 'This is the best party I've ever been to! I've travelled across the world to be here. There's a real sense of community. I've met a lot of people who I only knew from the internet. We share our love for video games and discuss how best to play them. It's great for my English because that's what everyone speaks online and here too!'

3 Write six true sentences about yourself. Use the Past Perfect and the Past Simple with six different time expressions.

used to 2.4

We use used to to talk about actions that happened regularly in the past, but that don't happen anymore or about things that were true in the past, but aren't true now.

We used to stay with my gran every summer holiday. She used to have long hair.

In the negative and question form, we drop the -d: I didn't use to play basketball when I was younger. Did he use to have a dog? Yes, he did./No, he didn't.

We can't use used to to talk about things that happened once. We use the Past Simple. We used to go on holiday to Brazil last year. We went on holiday to Brazil last year.

We can use both the Past Simple and used to to describe regular actions in the past.

We used to go/went on holiday to Brazil every year.

Complete the dialogue with used to and the correct form of the verbs in brackets.

  I think people will work less in the future.

We use be going to for:

- plans.
  Rachel's going to work in the café.
- predictions based on what we know now.
  I'm not going to have time to go out with my friends.

We use the Present Continuous for arrangements, often with this evening, next week, in the summer, at the weekend, on Wednesday, etc.

Joe isn't helping at the shop this weekend.

We use the Present Simple for timetables, often with times or dates.

The bus arrives at half past two.

- Make questions from the prompts. Use the future form in brackets.
  - 1 what time / this lesson / finish? (Present Simple) What time does this lesson finish?
  - 2 what / you / do / this weekend? (Present Continuous)
  - 3 you / buy / anything this weekend? (be going to)
  - 4 what / the weather / be / like / tomorrow? (will)
- 2 In pairs, ask and answer the questions in Exercise 1.

3 Choose the correct option.

- A: Hi, Adam. What are you doing / will you do after school?
- B: 1<sup>2</sup>'m helping / help my uncle. He owns a tennis club and I serve drinks in the café there. Maybe you can meet me afterwards.
- A: Sounds good! I <sup>3</sup>won't do / 'm not doing anything after school. I <sup>4</sup>'ll meet / 'm going to meet you there. What time <sup>5</sup>will you be / are you being free?
- B: My shift in the café <sup>6</sup> is finishing / finishes at six o'clock.
- 4 You plan to watch a film at the cinema tonight and want to invite your friend. Write a short email to your friend saying what you are going to see, what time the film starts and why you think your friend will like it.

4.4 Future Continuous

We use the Future Continuous to talk about an action that will be in progress at a certain time in the future. In the summer, Harry will be working on his grandfather's farm.

She won't be relaxing on a beach.

Will you be flying over the Atlantic this time tomorrow? Yes, I will./No, I won't.

What will you be doing?

Time expressions

- in ten minutes/a week/a month/a year/the future In two years, I'll be finishing school.
- at 6.45 this evening/midnight/10 a.m. tomorrow At eleven o'clock tonight I'll be sleeping.
- next spring/month/year
  Next winter, I'll be teaching children how to ski.
- soon
  I'll be working on a new project soon!
- Complete the dialogues with the Future Continuous form of the verbs in brackets.
  - 1 A: Will you be looking (look) for a full-time job when you leave school?
    - B: No, I _____ (start) a beauty therapy course at college.
  - 2 A: _____ you _____ (earn) any money this summer?
    - B: Yes, I will. I _____ (help) my uncle on his farm.
  - 3 A: _____ you _____ (study) this afternoon?
    - B: No, I _____ (work) in my parents' shop.
- 2 Complete the email with the Future Continuous form of the verbs in brackets.

Hi Lily.

I got the summer job at the beach café! So we 'II be working (work) together this summer. I can't wait! I'm so pleased I <sup>2</sup>______ (not stay) at home all summer. I hope we <sup>3</sup>______ (do) the same hours. I <sup>4</sup>______ (start) on 28 July. I <sup>5</sup>______ (just/clean) tables in the beginning. I <sup>6</sup>______ (not take) orders for the first week. Anyway, speak soon! Katy

5.2 Zero, First and Second Conditionals

Zero Conditional

If you freeze water, it expands. (scientific fact) Sarah starts to sneeze if she smells flowers. (always true) First Conditional

We'll look at the NASA website later if we have time. (the result of another action)

Unless it's a clear night, we won't see many stars. (possibility in the future)

Second Conditional

If I was/were older, I'd train to be an astronaut. (unreal situation)

If my little sister offered to help me, I'd be amazed. (unlikely situation)

Be careful!

- When the if clause is at the beginning of the sentence, we put a comma (,) after it.
- Unless means 'if not'.
- You can use was or were with the first person of the Second Conditional, except for If I were you.

Make sentences from the prompts. Use the Zero or First Conditional.

- 1 water / freeze / if / you / cool / it to 0°C Water freezes if you cool it to 0°C.
- 2 you / burn / if / you / stay / in the sun any longer
- 3 Emma / always / call / if / she / be going to / late
- 4 we / get / better pictures for our school project / if / we / use / a drone

2 Complete the questions with the Second Conditional form of the verbs in brackets.

- 1 What would you do (do) if you won (win) a competition to go into space?
- 2 If you _____ (discover) a new planet, what _____ you ____ (call) it?
- 3 If you _____ (can) travel anywhere, where _____ you _____ (go)?
- 4 _____ you _____ (do) a bungee jump if your best friend _____ (ask) you to?

3 In pairs, ask and answer the questions in Exercise 2.

4 Write a few sentences to answer each question. Use the Zero, First and Second Conditionals.

- 1 What do you usually do if you have free time?
- 2 What will you do this weekend if you and your friends are free?
- 3 What would you do if you won the lottery?

5.4 Third Conditional

We use the Third Conditional to talk about an action in the past that did not happen. If I had known you were coming, I wouldn't have gone out. (I didn't know you were coming, so I went out.)

You wouldn't have broken the camera if you had been more careful. (You weren't careful, so you broke it.)

Would you have done the parachute jump if it had been less windy? (You didn't do the parachute jump because it was windy.)

Complete the sentences with the Third Conditional form of the verbs in brackets.

- If she hadn't studied (not study) Science, she wouldn't have become an astronaut.
- 2 They _____ (not do) the mission if they had known about the dangers.
- 3 If they hadn't filmed the first landing on the moon, no one _____ (believe) it!
- 4 We _____ (miss) the comet if we had gone outside later.
- 5 If you _____ (see) the film Gravity, you would have really enjoyed it.
- 6 Peter would have won if he ______(answer) all the questions correctly.
- 2 Make questions from the prompts. Use the Third Conditional.
  - 1 what / you / do / today / if / you / not go / to school? What would you have done today if you hadn't gone to school?
  - 2 where / you / go / on your last holiday / if / you / win / the lottery?
  - 3 if / you / arrive / late at school this morning / what / happen?
  - 4 what / you / wear / today / if / the weather / be / different?
- 3 In pairs, ask and answer the questions in Exercise 2.

I would have slept for twelve hours!

4 Write a few sentences to answer the question below. Use the Third Conditional.

If you had been born 100 years ago, how would your life have been different?

6.2 Reported statements and questions

Statements

Reported speech tells us what someone said earlier. We usually use the verbs said (to me) or told (her). The verb tenses change as follows:

'I feel sick.'  $\rightarrow$  He told them (that) he felt sick. 'She's taking her medicine.'  $\rightarrow$  They said (that) she was taking her medicine.

'Tim broke his arm.'  $\rightarrow$  She said (that) Tim had broken his arm.

'They will be tired after school.'  $\rightarrow$  We said (that) they would be tired after school.

'I can't get to sleep.'  $\rightarrow$  She told him (that) she couldn't get to sleep.

Questions

When we report a yes/no question, we use if. 'Do you need to sit down?'  $\rightarrow$  She asked me if I needed to sit down.

When we report a Wh- question, we use the question word. We do not use the auxiliary verb do/does/did. 'Where do you live?'  $\rightarrow$  He asked where I lived.

Other changes

We often change pronouns, time and place expressions.

'Annabel is allergic to my cat.'  $\rightarrow$  He told us that Annabel was allergic to his cat.

'I'll come back tomorrow.'  $\rightarrow$  She said she would come back the next day.

'You can wait here.'  $\rightarrow$  The nurse said that the girl could wait there.

Rewrite the sentences and questions in reported speech.

- You're allergic to cats.' The doctor told me that I was allergic to cats.
- 2 'Where are you going?' Jack asked me
- 3 'I've lost my appetite.' She told me that she _
- 4 'Are you feeling dizzy, Emily?' Mum asked Emily
- 5 'I'll get your prescription for you, Tom.' She told Tom that she _____

2 In pairs, ask and answer the questions. Tell another pair about your partner.

- 1 What do you usually take for a sore throat?
- 2 What can people do to sleep better at night?
- 3 Do you ever get travel sick?
- 4 Can you name five examples of healthy food?

6.4 Reported commands and requests

Requests

We usually use ask (me/him/etc.) to report requests (verb + person + to-infinitive). 'Can you read the information, please?' She asked him to read the information. In negative requests, we use not before the to-infinitive. 'Please don't forget your appointment.' She asked us not to forget our appointment. Commands We usually use tell to report commands (verb + person + to-infinitive). 'Take the tablets with water.' The doctor told her to take the tablets with water. In negative commands, we use not before the to-infinitive: 'Don't worry.'

She told us not to worry.

- Rewrite the sentences in reported speech. Use the verbs in brackets.
  - 'Can you lend me your surfboard?' Adam said to Jenny. (ask)
    - Adam asked Jenny to lend him her surfboard.
  - 2 'Don't use your mobile phone now!' the teacher said to the student. (tell)
  - 3 'Please help me with the shopping,' the man said to his children. (ask)
  - 4 'Stand up,' the teacher said to the pupils. (tell)
  - 5 'Can you follow me?' the nurse said to the visitor. (ask)
  - 6 'Take a deep breath, please,' the doctor said to his patient. (ask)
- 2 Complete the reported commands and requests in the email. Use the Past Simple.

Hi Theo,

Guess what I did with Matt last weekend? Bungee jumping! When Matt <sup>1</sup>asked me to go (ask/go) with him, I really wasn't sure. I was a bit nervous because I'd never done it before. Anyway, he <sup>2</sup> (tell/not worry). He said I would love it!

 He was right - it was great fun. I <sup>3</sup> (tell/call) me next time he was going. He <sup>4</sup>
 (tell/bring) you too next time, and I said that would be great. So what do you think?

Sophie

7.2 The Passive: Present Simple, Past Simple, Present Perfect, can and must

We use the Passive when the person doing the action is not known, not important or obvious.

Present Simple and Past Simple

Facial expressions are used to show emotions. They weren't told about the party. Was the message sent?

Present Perfect

The problem hasn't been discussed yet. Has the activity been explained to you?

can and must

Drinks cannot be taken into the theatre. Tickets must be bought in advance.

If we want to say who did the action, we use by + the agent (the person or thing that does the action). The speech was made by the head teacher. She was contacted by an environmental organisation.

Make passive sentences from the prompts. Use the tense given in brackets and add by if necessary.

- 1 the letter / write / by you? (Past Simple) Was the letter written by you?
- 2 we / not show / the film about communication (Present Perfect)
- 3 some hand gestures / consider / rude (can)
- 4 an email / send / after every meeting (Present Simple)
- 5 the school rules / follow / all students (must)

2 Complete the text with the words below.

annoyed are be been bought is spent

Every year more than $500 billion is <sup>1</sup>spent on advertising worldwide. Television commercials 2 still used by many companies, but the biggest growth has <sup>3</sup> seen in online advertising. This is because an online advert can 4 seen by a much larger number of people. Also, much less money <sup>5</sup>_ spent on advertising a product online. You might be by pop-up adverts on websites, but the products they advertise are 7_ by many people anyway!

3 In pairs, ask and answer questions about the text. Use the Passive.

How much money is spent ... ?

7.4 The Passive with will

We use will + be + past participle to talk about the future using the Passive.

The information will be repeated later. You won't be given any homework today. Will the show be advertised on TV?

Be careful!

Sometimes you can form two different passive sentences from one active sentence:

Active: They will teach French to students. Passive: French will be taught to students. Students will be taught French.

- Rewrite the sentences in the Passive with will.
  - They won't understand his pronunciation.
    His pronunciation won't be understood.
  - 2 They will advertise their product. Their new product
  - 3 We won't give out flyers this year. Flyers _____
  - We will discuss good posture in the next lesson.
    Good posture
- 2 Make questions from the prompts. Use the Passive with will.
  - 1 when / the workshop / hold? When will the workshop be held?
  - 2 who/it/teach/by?
  - 3 which / topics / cover?
  - 4 what / each student / give?
- 3 Read the flyer. In pairs, ask and answer the questions in Exercise 2.

Free workshop: Improve your body language!

We will cover topics such as:

- \star making eye contact.
- 🖈 improving posture.

🖈 how to make the most of your voice.

We will give each student their own folder with information. A fun and useful workshop for all students!

8.2 Ability

Present

We can/can't draw.

Can he sing? Yes, he can./No, he can't. He is able to/isn't able to read books in Russian. Are they able to come? Yes, they are./No, they aren't.

Past

She could/couldn't hear the story. Could she paint? Yes, she could./No, she couldn't. They were/weren't able to finish the book. Were they able to help? Yes, they were./ No, they weren't.

manage to

We use manage to when we're talking about specific achievements.

We managed to/didn't manage to go to the party. Did Ann manage to complete her painting? Yes, she did./No, she didn't.

Future

They'll be/won't be able to come to the meeting. Will you be able to join us? Yes, I will./No, I won't.

Complete the sentences with the words below.

able could couldn't managed to will

- 1 | couldn't write my name until I started school.
- 2 After watching the play, the students were _______ to write about it.
- 3 Next year we'll be able _____ see the film version of this book.
- 4 We ______ to get the book we wanted from the library.
- 5 The teacher _____ be able to help you.
- 6 He _____ paint very well when he was just five years old.

2 In pairs, ask and answer the questions.

1 What couldn't you do last year that you can do now?

Last year I couldn't do handstands. Now I can do handstands and cartwheels.

- 2 Can you paint or draw?
- 3 Will you be able to meet up with your friends this weekend?
- 4 Did you manage to finish all your homework last night?

8.4 Obligation and prohibition

Obligation

We use must or have to to talk about present obligation, but we only use have to for past or future obligations. She had to/will have to help him.

You must be home before 9. / You have to be home before 9.

Lack of obligation

We use not have to to show lack of obligation in the present, past and future.

We don't/didn't/won't have to read the book.

Prohibition

We use must not or (not) allowed to for something prohibited.

We mustn't/aren't allowed to touch the sculptures. We can only use be allowed to for the past or future and to form questions.

I wasn't/won't be allowed to touch the sculptures. Are they allowed to touch the sculptures? Yes, they are./No, they aren't.

Choose the correct option.

- 1 You don't have to / mustn't be good at art to enjoy it.
- 2 We don't have to / aren't allowed to leave until we have finished.
- 3 You don't have to / mustn't be late for class.
- 4 It was raining, so we must / had to finish our paintings inside.
- 2 Read what Ben says. In pairs, ask and answer questions about him.
  - At school we mustn't use mobile phones.
  - At weekends I'm allowed to stay up late.
- <sup>3</sup> At home I don't have to wash the dishes.
- 4 When I was younger, I wasn't allowed to play computer games.
- 5 Next year I'll be able to learn another foreign language.
  - A: Is Ben allowed to use a mobile phone at school?
  - B: No, he isn't.

Write sentences like Ben's that are true for you. At school we mustn't take food or drink into the classroom.

GRAMMAR TIME

9.2 Defining and non-defining relative clauses

Defining relative clauses

We don't use commas in defining relative clauses. That's the hotel where our prom will be held. Tom's the boy whose birthday we're celebrating.

We can use that instead of which or who. I'd like to find some shoes which/that go with this dress. These are the boys who/that helped me.

When that, which, who or where is the object of a defining relative clause, you can leave it out.

I'm wearing the prom dress that I bought last month./ I'm wearing the prom dress I bought last month.

Non-defining relative clauses

We use commas in non-defining relative clauses. Lee, who is my best friend, is a really good dancer. Liam, whose sister is in my class, is a DJ.

We can't use that instead of which or who. This jacket, that was a present from my mum, is my favourite.

This jacket, which was a present from my mum, is my favourite.

Complete the sentences with who, which, whose or where.

- 1 This is the house where we were living when I was ten.
- 2 Look at the ring _____ I got for my birthday.
- 3 My brother, _____ wedding was last Saturday, is now in Bali with his wife.
- 4 These are the earrings _____ I bought my mum for Mother's Day.
- 5 This is the field _____ they'll let off the fireworks after the show.
- 6 Amanda, _____ made my costume, is an Art teacher at the local college.
- 2 Look at the sentences in Exercise 1 again. Which relative clauses are defining and which are nondefining? In which sentences can you leave out the relative pronoun?
- Write down the name of a person, the name of a place and a favourite possession which are special to you. In pairs, take it in turns to tell your partner why they are so important. Use relative clauses.

She/He is the person who ... This is the place where ... This is the watch/guitar that/which ...

9.4 Direct and indirect questions

We often use indirect questions when we want to ask something more politely. The word order in indirect questions is the same as in statements and we don't use the auxiliary verbs do, does or did. We use different expressions like: could you tell me, I was wondering and do you know.

Wh-questions

Direct: When does the festival take place?

Indirect: Do you have any idea when the festival takes place?

Direct: Who did you take to the prom?

Indirect: I was wondering who you took to the prom.

Yes/No questions

Direct: Does the fireworks display start at 9 p.m.? Indirect: Do you know if the fireworks display starts at 9 p.m.?

Complete the indirect questions.

- 1 Where's Sam? Do you have any idea where Sam is?
- 2 Did you hear that bang? I was wondering
- 3 What is the national flag of your country? Could you tell me_____?
- 4 What do I need to wear to the party? Do you have any idea
- 5 Do you believe that black cats bring bad luck? I'd like to know
- 2 In pairs, write one or two indirect questions for each situation.
  - I'm hungry I hope dinner's soon!

I was wondering when dinner will be ready. Could you tell me what time dinner will be ready, please?

- 2 I've no idea what this food is!
  - I hope the parade finishes soon I'm tired!
  - Is it the custom to make a toast? I don't know!

1 🥹 4.21 There are seven questions in this part. For each question, choose the correct answer, A, B or C. Tip: Choose the answers that you think are correct the first time you listen, then check your answers on the second listening.

Example: Which challenge does the girl want to do?

1 What did the boy enjoy on his first day at school?

4 What can you recycle at school?

2 Which experience did the girl find most difficult?

5 Which place are the people going to clean?

6 What has the boy just bought?

С

3 What is the boy concerned about in his city?

A

7 Which boots does the girl buy?

EXAM TIME 1 Listening

2 ④ 4.22 You will hear part of an interview with a young fashion designer called Jake. For each question, choose the correct answer a, b or c.

Tip: The questions come in the same order as the information in the recording. If you miss the answer to a question, leave it and move on to the next question, then try to answer it the second time you listen.

- 1 What is Jake planning to do in the summer holidays?

  - b go to college to study fashion design
  - c get some work experience with a fashion designer
- 6 What would Jake most like to do?
  - a inspire other young people to become successful
  - b earn lots of money
  - c become a famous fashion designer

3 (4.23 You will hear a conversation between a boy, Tom, and a girl, Tara, about upcycling. Decide if each sentence is correct or incorrect. If it is correct, choose the letter A for YES. If it is not correct, choose the letter B for NO.

Tip: Listen carefully to check that the information in the recording exactly matches each sentence. For example, a sentence in the task might say that the speakers agree on an idea, but in the recording only one speaker may express this opinion.

		TES	NO
	Tom didn't know what upcycling was before this conversation.	А	в
2	Tom thinks it's easier to upcycle things than to buy new ones.	A	В
3	Tara believes that individuals should try to create less rubbish.	А	в
4	Tom and Tara agree that governments should do more for the environment.	A	В
5	Tara persuades Tom that he should buy upcycled clothes.	А	В

  - c working very hard on experiments
- 6 What would Kizzie like to do one day?
  - a travel to Mars
  - b encourage other young people to become interested in space
  - c make discoveries that could help people

3 🥑 4.26 You will hear some information about a new museum. Complete the gaps with the missing information.

Tip: Some of the gaps may be numbers. You can write these as words or as figures.

Museum of Space

- Date of opening: 1
- Number of exhibition rooms: <sup>2</sup>
- Ticket price for under-sixteens:
- Price includes entry to the <sup>4</sup>
- Life-size model of part of the <sup>5</sup>
- Visit website at <sup>6</sup>

Tip: Answer the questions clearly, then try to add more information (e.g. some extra details or your opinion).

1 Students A and B, answer the questions below.

- 1 What's your name?
- 2 What's your surname? How do you spell that?
- 3 Where do you come from?

- 1 What job would you like to do in the summer holidays? Why?
- 2 What would be your ideal job in the future? Why?
- 3 When was the last time you were ill? What was the problem?
- 4 Would you like to try any extreme sports? Why? / Why not?

3 Work in pairs. Look at the pictures and do the task together

Tip: Remember that this is a discussion, so ask your partner what he/she thinks about each idea as well as expressing your own opinion.

A friend wants to get a job in the summer holidays to earn some money. Talk together about the types of job your friend could do and then decide which is best.

Here are some pictures to help you.

EXAM TIME 2 Speaking

4 Work in pairs. Take turns to tell your partner about a photograph. Your photographs will be of people having health checks.

Tip: It's important to talk about who you think the people in the photographs are, what they are doing and how they might be feeling. You can make guesses if you are not sure.

Student A

It's your turn first. Look at the photograph and tell Student B what you can see in it.

Student B Tell Student A what you can see in the photograph.

5 Work in pairs. Talk to each other about what you do now to keep healthy and what other activities you could do.

Tip: Remember that this is a conversation, so you should show that you are interested in what your partner is saying. You can use phrases like: Really? That's interesting. I see.

EXAM TIME 3 Listening

1 🕘 4.27 There are seven questions in this part. For each question, choose the correct answer A, B or C.

Tip: Look at the three pictures for each question and think about the differences between them. This will help you to focus on the right information when you listen.

Example: How did the girl learn about the new perfume?

1 What did the boy enjoy most at the exhibition?

2 What time will the art gallery close today?

3 What could the girl do before she started school?

4 What does the boy always look at first on the news website?

5 What is the date of the school prom?

6 What does the boy want at his birthday party?

7 What event is the girl looking forward to?

EXAM TIME 3 Listening

2 😔 4.28 You will hear some information about a parade. Complete the gaps with the missing information.

Tip: You should write between one and three words in each gap.

SUMMER PARADE

- Place to meet: <sup>1</sup>
- Time parade starts: <sup>2</sup>
- Remember to bring <sup>3</sup>
- Mr Kean will bring <sup>4</sup>
- Mrs Denton will help with <sup>5</sup>
- Day ends with a <sup>6</sup>

3 (4.29 You will hear a conversation between a boy, Jack, and a girl, Tess, about animal communication. Decide if each sentence is correct or incorrect. If it is correct, choose the letter A for YES. If it is not correct, choose the letter B for NO.

Tip: Some questions ask about the opinions of the speakers, so listen carefully for expressions they use to respond or give their opinions.

		YES	NO
1	Tess agrees with Jack that birds don't really have a language.	А	В
2	Jack is surprised when Tess tells him how far whale sounds can travel.	А	В
3	Jack knows from personal experience that dogs can communicate with humans.	А	В
4	Other animals don't understand the body language of dogs.	А	В
5	Tess and Jack are both very interested in how chimpanzees communicate.	А	В
6	Jack isn't interested in reading Tess's book on animal communication.	А	В

EXAM TIME 3 Speaking

Tip: Remember to add reasons and examples to support your answer and try to use a wide range of vocabulary.

- Students A and B, answer the questions below.
  - 1 What's your name?
  - 2 What's your surname? How do you spell that?
  - 3 Where do you come from?
  - 4 Do you study English at school? Do you like it?
- 2 Students A and B, choose TWO questions to ask your partner.
  - 1 How do you usually communicate with your friends?
  - 2 Do you enjoy watching adverts on TV? Why? / Why not?
  - 3 What kinds of art do you like looking at? Why?
  - 4 Do you prefer books or films? Why?

3 Work in pairs. Look at the pictures and do the task together.

Tip: Use a range of expressions for agreeing and disagreeing with your partner about the different ideas, and remember you must reach agreement about which one is best.

You and some friends are organising a summer music festival at your school. Talk together about the different ways you could advertise the event and then decide which is best.

Here are some pictures to help you.

EXAM TIME 3 Speaking

4 Work in pairs. Take turns to tell your partner about a photograph. Your photographs will be of celebrations.

Tip: Try to describe the whole scene in the photograph, and also some of the details. Remember to talk about how you think the people are feeling and why.

Student A

It's your turn first. Look at the photograph and tell Student B what you can see in it.

Tell Student A what you can see in the photograph.

5 Work in pairs. Talk to each other about what kinds of special occasions you and your family celebrate together.

Tip: Try to make sure that you and your partner both get a chance to speak. Remember to agree and disagree with your partner, and ask them for their opinion.

Fracking

Fracking

The world needs energy to survive. We have relied on fossil fuels for a long time, but traditional fossil fuels like coal and oil are getting more difficult and expensive to access. A possible alternative is the process called 'fracking' Although the technique is not new – it has been used for sixty-five years – companies have recently been using it a lot more in countries like the USA and Canada. New technology has made the process much easier. Now they want to use it in the UK, but many people are against the idea.

What is fracking?

Fracking is another name for 'hydraulic fracturing' This is the method used to extract shale gas from rock deep below the surface of the earth. Shale gas is a natural gas which is trapped inside the rock and the only way to release it is by cracking the rock. With hydraulic fracturing, big machines drill a well down through the water table into the rocks – sometimes more than a kilometre down. Then the drilling turns horizontally and continues for thousands of metres. Water, sand and chemicals are forced into the rock at very high pressure. This fractures the rock, making lots of small fissures, and the natural shale gas comes out.

Why is fracking a good thing?

The supporters of fracking believe that it is a safe and cheap way of getting essential energy. There are huge amounts of shale gas on our planet and using fracking to access it will give people a cheap and reliable source of energy for a long time. In fact, many say that it is the only realistic source of energy for the future. People also believe that replacing coal with more natural gas is better for the environment, air quality and people's health.

- Look at the picture. In pairs, discuss what you think is happening and why.
- 2 The process in the picture is called fracking. Choose the correct answer Then read the article quickly and check your answer to Exercise 1

Fracking is related to

- a recycling waste water
- b extracting fossil fuels.
- c renewable energy.
- 3 Read the text again. Answer the questions.
  - 1 How long has fracking been used?
  - 2 Which countries use fracking a lot?
  - 3 What is the word fracking short for?
  - 4 Why is it difficult to extract shale gas?
  - 5 What are the advantages of fracking?
  - 6 How might fracking affect the environment?

Why is fracking a bad thing?

Many people are against fracking because they believe it is dangerous. One concern is that during the process, toxic chemicals and gases may leak into the water system. Another fear is that the drilling and fracturing may lead to small earthquakes. To reach the shale gas there need to be many, many wells in one area. This, combined with the constant transport of water needed for the process, will make enormous areas industrialised, noisy and busy. There are also worries about the vast amounts of water needed for fracking.

- 4 Read the second paragraph again and look at the diagram. Work in pairs. Student A, close your book and describe the process of fracking to your partner Student B, check your partner's description. Help and correct him/her where necessary.
- 5 In pairs, discuss the advantages and disadvantages of fracking. One of you should argue in favour and the other against.
- 6 PROJECT Use the internet to find out more about fracking in your own or a neighbouring country. Make notes about:
  - where it has happened or where it is planned.
  - what the consequences for the environment might be.
  - what local people's reactions are.
- 7 PROJECT Create a short presentation. Write a paragraph about fracking in your own or a neighbouring country and add pictures, statistics and comments. Share your presentation with the class.

ART AND DESIGN

PASHION O

In historical terms, the idea of fashion design is guite new. Charles Worth, who was from England, is thought to have been the first fashion designer. He set up his fashion house in Paris in 1858. Before Worth, people usually asked dressmakers to create what they, the client, wanted. Charles Worth did the opposite - he told his customers what to wear! He set trends and established the job of a fashion designer. Design houses like his started to employ artists to sketch pictures of clothes to show their clients, instead of making complete garments The clients made choices and orders from the drawings. The fashion houses started to earn a lot of money. Today fashion houses and top designers control what we all wear, from hats to shoes and everything in between. There are three types of clothes that designers and manufacturers produce today.

Haute couture

This is the most expensive and exclusive clothing to buy. A garment is made specifically to fit one person only. The fabric that is used is very good quality and the garment is almost completely created and sewn by hand. Because of the cost of creating the clothes, haute couture doesn't make a big profit, but it is excellent for the reputation of the designer and fashion house.

Fashion

Ready-to-wear

Ready-to-wear clothes are not as expensive as haute couture. They are produced using good quality fabrics and they are well-designed and made. However, these clothes are not created for individual people but for the general public. They are sold in standard sizes, in shops. Usually, there is only a limited number of clothes of the same design, so this means that not everyone is wearing the same dress or jacket. The designers' collections of ready-to-wear are shown during fashion weeks in cities around the world twice a year.

Mass market

Most people buy this type of clothing. After top fashion designers show their collections in fashion weeks, the high street clothing companies wait to see which trends, styles and colours become popular. Then they make their own versions using cheaper materials and methods of production. These clothes don't always last long and people throw them away regularly and replace them.

Match the list of skills a fashion designer needs with the pictures. Then put the skills in the order you think they are required when designing and making clothes.

MUSIC David Bowie

David Bowie and space

- 1 David Bowie was one of England's greatest singers. He lived from 1947 to 2016 and for five decades his music touched people all over the world. He was not only a singer but also a songwriter and an actor, and he influenced many people who work in the music industry today. People will remember Bowie for his music, of course, but also for his imagination and the wonderful characters he created on stage, including the outrageous Ziggy Stardust. His continued success was because of his ability to reinvent himself as a musician again and again. He started singing pop songs, then rock, then glam rock and in the 2000s he even experimented with the styles of industrial and jungle.
- 2 One theme that Bowie used many times in his songs was space. From fantasies about going into space to aliens coming to visit us, his songs and albums show a deep interest in the subject. Perhaps his most famous song
- Have you heard of David Bowie? What do you know about him? Do you know any of his songs? Tell the class.

about space, which he first released as a single in 1969 and then re-released in 1975, is Space Oddity. It was released just before the USA launched Apollo 11, which landed on the moon on 20 July 1969. The lyrics of the song tell the story of a fictional astronaut, Major Tom, who is sent into space and goes on a space walk, but ground control loses contact with him.

3 Space Oddity became one of Bowie's signature songs. It also became famous again in 2013 for a very important reason. The Canadian astronaut Chris Hadfield, was on board the International Space Station and filmed himself singing Space Oddity. It was the first video ever shot in space. Bowie is remembered for Space Oddity, but he also wrote many other space-themed songs which also became popular. For example, his album called The Rise and Fall of Ziggy Stardust and the Spiders from Mars.

4 Work in pairs. Each of you should choose and read ONE of the short texts (A or B) below about songs which were played in space.

A Across the Universe by The Beatles

This was the first song that was beamed directly into space on 4 February 2008. It was sent from a seventy-metre dish at the Deep Space Network near Madrid. It celebrated the fortieth anniversary of the song, the the forty-fifth anniversary of the DSN and the fiftieth anniversary of NASA.

B Reach for the Stars by will.i.am

This was transmitted from the planet Mars to Earth by NASA's Curiosity Rover, on 28 August 2012. NASA and will.i.am wanted to encourage young people to study Science. It travelled 300 million miles and was the first song ever broadcast from another planet.

SCIENCE

The brain

Healthy brains

- Our brains are very complicated organs. As they get older, the nerve cells (neurons) die, connections between nerve cells (synapses) are lost and the brain gets smaller and lighter. This affects all our brain functions our memory, our thinking skills and our emotions. However, people's brains age at different speeds. Why is that? And can we protect the brain against ageing?
- Scientists used to think that the speed of brain ageing was a result of genetics, that it ran in the family, but now they say only twentyfive percent of the differences are a result of genetics. Seventy-five percent are a result of our upbringing and lifestyle. So, it is possible for people to do things to keep their brains young.
- Exercise plays an important role. Some exercise such as table tennis, which is fast and competitive, and where you have to think very quickly, can increase the size of the cortex. This improves the connections between nerve cells and affects our ability to solve problems. It can also make us happier and less depressed. Exercise like fast walking can increase the size of the hippocampus, which helps our memory. This might be because aerobic exercise can create new neurons.
- Food, of course, is also important. Scientists believe that anthocyanin, a natural plant colouring, helps the brain stay young. It can be found in vegetables and fruit that are blue, purple and red, such as purple sweet potatoes, red cabbage, blackcurrants, blueberries and blackberries. It is also believed to help form new nerve connections.
- Research has also shown that education plays a big part in protecting our brains as we get older. The more new things we learn when we're younger (and throughout our lives), the better for our brains. Some people believe that learning a second language is one of the best ways to keep our brains healthy.

HISTORY

Guy Fawkes

Guy Fawkes and the Gunpowder Plot

ww.frenalish

- 1 One of the most well-known national celebrations in the UK is 5 November, which is called Guy Fawkes Night, or Bonfire Night. It commemorates an event from 1605, but this was not an event that happened – it was an event that didn't happen! If the event had taken place, English history would have been very different.
- 2 It was all about religion. At that time in England the people were either Roman Catholic or Protestant (Church of England). Elizabeth I, who was a Protestant queen, persecuted the Catholics badly. When James I became king although he was also a Protestant Roman Catholics hoped he would be kinder to them. Unfortunately, this didn't happen and a group of Roman Catholic activists planned to blow up the Palace of Westminster when the King opened Parliament; this plan was called 'the Gunpowder Plot'. The leader of the group was Robert Catesby and he organised the smuggling of thirty-six barrels of gunpowder into the basement of the building. Guy Fawkes, who was the explosives expert, stayed to light the fuse. If all this gunpowder had exploded, it would have destroyed a huge area in the centre of London. Unfortunately for the plotters, Guy Fawkes and the gunpowder were discovered at the last minute and the plan failed. All the members of the gang were eventually found and executed.
- 3 After the plot, Parliament passed an act which made 5 November a national day of thanksgiving, and it has been celebrated ever since. On this day, people build bonfires and make a type of doll, called the 'guy' which is put on the top of the bonfire to burn. It is a festive evening with lots of fireworks and parades in many towns. The 'guy' represents Guy Fawkes and the fireworks represent the explosion that didn't happen. Traditionally, children used to make the 'guy' and take it round the streets asking people for 'a penny for the guy.' However, this custom has almost disappeared. The celebrations on 5 November take place all round the country. However, there is one place where they don't burn a 'guy'. This is St Peter's school in York it is Guy Fawkes' old school. Another interesting traditional ceremony is every November, before the state opening of Parliament, the Yeomen of the Guard still search the Houses of Parliament.
- Do you know anything about a national celebration in another country where people celebrate the life of an important person from the past?
- 2 Read the article quickly. In which paragraphs are photos A-D mentioned?
- 3 Read the article again and say why these names and numbers are important.

- 5 Work in pairs. Read two people's comments about Guy Fawkes Night. Who do you agree with? Why?
- A It's important to commemorate things like this. It's fun to put a guy on the bonfire and watch him burn. In some places they burn a guy that looks like a politician! Great fun!
- B In my opinion, it's a horrible tradition! Burning something that represents a person – that's just old-fashioned and scary. Maybe we should just light a bonfire.

Culture

Iteland) has had a strong cultural influence on the English-speaking world. It has produced many great Writers, including Oscar Wilde and George Bernard Shaw; actors, including Pierce Brosnan and Colin Farrell; and musicians, including U2. Irish step dancing - fast foot movements while the body and arms don't move - has also become popular around the world.

Language

About thirty-eight percent of the population speak Irish as a first or second language. Most people speak English. However, more and more children are going to Irish-speaking schools and there are several Irish TV channels, radio stations and newspapers.

North and South

For many centuries Ireland was ruled by the English, but in the early twentieth century most of the island became an independent country, the Republic of Ireland. Northern Ireland, however, continued to be part of the United Kingdom. The two parts of Ireland have a shared culture, but there are some religious differences. In the north, most people are Protestants; in the south, most people are Catholics.

The Gift of the Gab

At Blarney Castle in the south of Ireland, you can find the Blarney Stone. According to tradition, if you kiss this special stone, you will have the 'gift of the gab' - the ability to talk well and persuade people easily. Some people think that the Irish are the most talkative people in the world. Have they all kissed the Blarney Stone?
